NEW PUBLICATION SPLITS MARIN CITY

Black Arms Expected To Bring Voice Of Concern At Poverty Fund Session

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Marin City residents are divided and disturbed over a new mimeographed publication called Black Arms, third issue of which is scheduled to appear this week.

The concern is expected to be voiced when an application for War on Poverty funds to continue the Black Advance project comes before the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council in August or September.

Black Arms carries the subtitle, "Marin City News." Nearest thing to news in the seven-page second edition, however, was an item urging attendance at Marin City Community Services District board meetings, without mentioning the time and place of meetings.

Remainder of the edition was given over to advocacy of black power in various forms.

The front cover shows an outline map of Africa, with the wording: "The colonised (sic) man finds his freedom in and through violence," and "What is Whiteness? Oppression, exploitation, rascism (sic), hypocracy (sic), colonialization."

Page 2, under the heading "Black Dignity," urges Marin City residents to take over the Marin County Housing Authority, take over the Marin City sheriff's sub-station, and "take over all the land that white people own or have interests in, we will develop the land the way we see fit."

Page 3 announces: "The main function of Black Arms is to awaken the people and teach them the strategic method of resisting the power structure here in Marin County and elsewhere." Page 4 urges "black arms for the black army" and declares, "Huey (Newton) must be set free. The honky must be jailed."

An essay on "Black Politics: Marin City" on page 5 declares: "Black politics is black power by any means necessary . . . Black is M16 politics — .38, .45, .357." It continues: "Marin City is small and here we can best show how to use Black Politics. From Marin City we can begin to move to San Francisco, Oakland, and Chicago. We can organize and unify so that we own Marin City, so that everything belongs to black people. We can sock it to this pig called America."

On page 7 appears the slogan, "Capitalism is nothing but domestic colonialism." This echoes a declaration in the first issue of Black Arms: "Capitalism must fall."

The publication is likely to be at issue when the EOC board discusses a grant for Black Advance because Black Arms is published from the office of Black Advance in Building 2, 64 Drake Avenue.

Beyond that, the connection is not clear. The publication lists no staff. Inquiries at the office, however, elicited the information that the editor and publisher is Russell Williams, who has been a leader in the Black Student Union at College of Marin, with James Bullock as assistant editor.

Black Advance is a project of Gregory L. Baines, a former teacher in Sausalito School District. Its motto is "build, baby, build." Its purposes, according to Baines, are placing young Negroes in jobs, initiating black business enterprises in Marin City, and sponsoring an annual art festival. Beyond that, he says, it is aimed at "developing a consciousness of what blackness is."

Black Advance has placed 15 young men in jobs since it started May 1, according to Rev. John O'Connor of Catholic Social Services, which put up $18,000 to carry the project through September. It helped Boone Greene and Ephraim Freeman, two young Marin City men, start Marin Music City in part of the one-third of Building C at 64 Drake Avenue which Baines rents from the housing authority.

Baines took a lease on the premises last Dec. 1, and established a men's clothing store in it. At that time, he was a teacher in the Sausalito School District Guidance and Counseling Center at Central School and resided in Sausalito.

Between then and May 1, however, he interested Father O'Connor of Catholic Social Services in his Black Advance project. When money for the project was obtained, he took a leave of absence from the school district and moved to a cooperative apartment in Marin City. He has recently moved to one of the privately owned houses on Buckelew Street.

His leave from the school district expired June 30. He has not asked that it be renewed, so is no longer under contract to the district, according to Asst. Supt. Joseph Amato.

The 900 square feet that Baines rents in Building C is already rather crowded with the clothing store, Marin Music City, and the Black Advance office from which Black Arms issues. However,

INTEGRATION VACATIONS

Black, White Families Trade Houses

By JIM BREWER

(First of two articles)

A little-known project aimed at eliminating the mutual fears involved in integration of white neighborhoods has been underway in Marin for the past four summers — and it's had some surprising results.

The idea would have remained obscured within the maze of current crash programs if Mrs. Charles Clifford hadn't mentioned it at a recent community meeting in San Rafael, when 16 residents met to analyze the report of the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorder (Kerner Report).

The Cliffords, of 200 Forbes Avenue, a self-proclaimed typical Marin family, organized the program after they became discouraged by foundering human relations organizations.

The Cliffords stand out in some ways from "typical Marin families," however. For instance, some of their dearest friends are black residents of San Francisco low-cost housing projects. And these friendships provide the cornerstone for a project in human relations which Mrs. Clifford says "is unfortunately still news in Marin County."

Since the summer of 1965, the Cliffords have given their house during family vacations to one of these black families, Mrs. Gertrude Lewis and her three children. "It's a chance to expose the neighborhood to integration and it gives blacks a chance to see how they like it on a trial basis," said Clifford, a San Francisco attorney.

Under Mrs. Clifford's direction, other Marin families have tried the same thing, although the plan has been abandoned on an organized basis. In one case, however, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Jones, formerly of San Francisco, found a permanent home in Marinwood.

The Cliffords continue to share their home with the Lewis family. "It takes a commitment to make this work," said Clifford, as he and his wife unfolded a drama of human understanding that began for them while he was attending law school in San Francisco in 1952.

"I guess what really teed it off for us was the lack of integration of the Catholic Church," he began. Clifford said the couple first began to attack the racial problem by working in organized community projects. "But they never seemed to get beyond the talking stage," he continued.

"We wanted something with personal involvement, rather than sitting around and talking." Part of that involvement, he said, took place in the summer of 1964 when the couple took their six children and moved to the low-rent district of Potrero Hill, in South San Francisco.

"We wanted to expose our children to a part of this country they would not find on our side of the Golden Gate," Mrs. Clifford explained. "The kids noticed the difference in customs much more than we did."

She said, "They seemed sensitive to their superiority, because they insisted on wearing dirty, old clothing. They spent their days in nearby playgrounds and not once did they ask for money — until we got back."

Mrs. Clifford said she is convinced that the family's stay in Potrero Hill instilled a real human value in her children. "People are just people to them," she exclaimed.

It was during that stay in San Francisco that the family began lasting friendships with black families, Clifford continued. And what began as a token of that friendship, a year later blossomed into the project to enable Marin residents to share the Cliffords' good fortune in discovering as warm a feeling for black as for white families.

"We used to have someone come to our home, while we were on vacation, to water and see that things were okay," he went on. "So one summer we decided to invite Mrs. Lewis to get out of the fog and into the sunshine for a while."

He said Mrs. Clifford, whom he described as the organizer of the family, leaped on the idea as an opportunity to start a local movement. She set up a home-sharing program in that summer of 1965.

Although the program began in five homes it soon became bogged down by unforeseen complications — so much so that it was abandoned as an organized project.

She explained. "You have a hard time getting black families to come. They are more fearful than Marin people — especially for their children. They don't want to expose them to ridicule from whites."

The most difficult problem, she explained, is getting the black families to trust the whites. "You have to be friends," she emphasized.

Another problem, she said, was finding something for the families to do during their visit to Marin. "You had to find local families who would call on the black guests." Money was another problem unforeseen at first, she said. "Things cost more here."

She said it takes an adventurous black family to try the experiment. "You have to be selective," she said. "You can hurt a family who doesn't have your confidence." She said many familes would back out at the last minute, fearful of being alone in the sunshine.

"We're just not trying to organize it any more," she said. The only way for this thing to work is for both parties to be friends."

Clifford, who said he believes these friendships are easily attained, expressed hope that other families would give the plan a try on their own. "It's something we can all do," he said. "I refuse to believe that a community which can organize everything from gun clubs to women's clubs can't do this within his own neighborhood."

The Cliffords, with their seven children, Carolyn, 15; Charlie, 14; Patsy, 13; Peter, 10; Jimmy, 8; Ann, 6, and Mathew, 18 months, leave on a three-week vacation Sunday. Mrs. Lewis and two children come in the following week.

Major Viet Offensive Held Ready

Captured Enemy Officers Tell Of Cong Preparations

SAIGON (AP) — Captured enemy officers and Viet Cong defectors are continuing to supply evidence that the foe is preparing for a major third offensive, South Vietnamese intelligence source said today.

Some prisoners have told interrogators that Allied bombing raids and ground sweeps around Saigon are constantly disrupting these preparations.

A female Viet Cong squad leader captured by South Vietnamese airborne troops said she had been ordered to set up a first aid station near Saigon to treat the wounded in the upcoming assault, the sources said.

An officer of the 508th Viet Cong Battalion in Oong An Province told his captors that six battalions and two sapper companies, a total of 2,200 men, would be used in the offensive. Intelligence officers said he listed the main targets in Saigon as the national and local police headquarters, the presidential palace and militia posts.

CLIFFORD TIME TABLE

Another prisoner, the executive officer of the 4th Viet Cong local force battalion, said the assault was planned between the end of July and early September, the same time estimate which has been accepted by the U.S. Command and Defense Secretary Clark M. Clifford.

He said the enemy troops would try to isolate the Bien Hoa highway, the main northern route from Saigon; seize the 9th Precinct police headquarters southeast of the capital, and attack the government radio station, the U.S. Embassy, the Vietnamese navy headquarters and other allied installations.

A Viet Cong platoon leader who defected July 17 said two battalions south of Saigon are waiting for their commanders to return from "refresher training courses in strategy and tactics" at secret bases near the Cambodian border.

SINK DREDGE

Viet Cong sappers sank a large civilian dredge yesterday which was operating near the U.S. 9th Infantry Division headquarters at Dong Tam 40 miles south of Saigon. No one was aboard and there were no casualties.

U.S. pilots destroyed 477 enemy supply boats in weekend raids over the waterways of North Vietnam's panhandle, while B52 bombers pounded enemy base camps along the Cambodian border west and north of Saigon. The eight-jet Stratesfortresses dropped 1,500 tons of bombs on the enemy position Sunday to noon Monday.

Catholic Church In Crisis

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Paul VI today overruled liberals within the Roman Catholic Church and banned the pill and all other artificial means of birth control. A Vatican spokesman said the Pope knew his decision "would not be easily accepted by all."

The pontiff, in a 38-page encyclical to his bishops, upheld centuries of church law against demands for change. And in doing so he used some of the strongest, most unequivocal words of his pontificate.

"The direct interruption of the generative process already begun... (is) to be absolutely excluded as illicit means of regulating birth," he said. He said the ban also applies to abortion, permanent or temporary sterlization and to every act that would "render procreation impossible."

The 70-year-old pontiff spoke forcefully but he did not exercise the church doctrine of papal infallibility in making his pronouncement; that is, "Ex Cathedra" (from the Chair of Peter). The ruling, therefore, did not have in church doctrine the status of an infallible pronouncement which Catholics are compelled to accept on pain of mortal sin.

Palmer Second In Army Command

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Bruce Palmer, a former deputy commander in Vietnam, got his fourth star and was sworn in as the Army's No.2 man in ceremonies today at the Pentagon.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, former U.S. commander in Vietnam and now chief of staff, looked on as the Austin, Tex., native took the oath as his vice chief of staff.

Palmer was deputy commanding general of the Army in Vietnam until he was picked to return to Washington as part of the Westmoreland team in the Pentagon.

Steel Bargaining Parley Reported On Bright Note

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A reported improved steel industry offer, spurring unexpected renewal of secret bargaining, heightened optimism today that a threatened nationwide strike Thursday of 388,000 steelworkers may be averted.

The dramatic action occurred at the very hour of a scheduled meeting of the 33-member executive board of the United Steelworkers Union, causing an immediate 24-hour delay in that sessions. The board had been summoned to get the first complete report on the status of negotiations.

What exactly was on the bargaining table was not disclosed, and rumors varied as to the size of the package.

One source said the first firm industry offer was for about 4 per cent or approximately 60 cents an hour in a three-year contract.

Union demands — approximately matching those gained by aluminum, copper, can and auto workers — run over 6 per cent, or in the neighborhood of about $1 an hour. There have been reports that the steelworkers would accept an offer near 90 cents. They presently average $3.84 an hour.

The sudden break today may be the "common ground" that the top level negotiators said they were seeking to find in a joint statement issued last weekend. They said then their positions were flexible.

Anyway, when the executive committee meeting was postponed the directors left the room smiling.

Union President I.W. Abel sent word that he was tied up with R. Conrad Cooper, chief negotiator, for the 11 major steel firms involved in the new contract talks for the nation's basic steelworkers. The top level meeting between Abel and Cooper came as time began running out on the current contract, which expires at midnight Wednesday.

UMW Vice President Joseph P. Molony, who brought word of the renewed talks, told newsmen as he rushed back to Abel's side that "things look better now — they're looking up."

Republicans Get To Work On Writing Their Platform

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Republican platform writers went to work today under advice to keep the campaign document neutral as between GOP presidential hopefuls—but a note of rivalry sounded at the very first session.

Harold Stassen, long-time seeker of the presidentia, nomination, accused New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Richard M. Nixon of being enmeshed in what he called the errors of the Democratic administration's Vietnam policy. Stassen challenged those he said are "regarded as the front runners" to appear in person before the platform-writing group.

Neither Nixon nor Rockefeller has asked for time at the platform committee hearings, which are a prelude to next week's nomination convention, but it was understood both intend to present some ideas through friendly witnesses.

Stassen was one of the first witnesses before the committee.

"We don't know who is going to be the nominee," the platform committee chairman, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, said. "I'm keeping myself free from that controversy—if it is a controversy." He said he hopes other members of the committee will refrain from pushing for their favorites through platform wording.

Republican National Chairman Ray C. Bliss counseled along similar lines, although less specifically. He told the committee it could do no better than to build the platform on materials assembled for the past months by the broadly-based Republican Co-ordinating committee.

Bliss said its reports reflect "the unified voice of the Republican party." He added, "Don't put anything into the platform unless you mean it, unless you intend to do it, unless it is possible of fulfilment."

Stassen proposed a plank advocating de-escalating what he called the American war drive in Vietnam and simultaneously moving through the United Nations for a solution.

LBJ Continues Law On Food For Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed today legislation to continue the Food for Peace program which he said has meant life for millions of human beings in other countries during the last 14 years.

He noted that, among other things, the new law to extend the program an additional two years promises "more resources for family planning."

Dean Of Diplomats Notes 25th Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Guillermo Sevilla-Sacasa of Nicaragua, dean of the Washington diplomatic corps, paid a call on President Johnson at the White House today, marking the 25th anniversary of his appointment.

Chatting with Johnson in the presidential office, Sevilla-Sacasa recalled that he had presented his credentials 25 years ago to President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Czech, Russ Leaders In Top Session

CIERNA NAD TISOU, Czechoslovakia (UPI)—Czech and Soviet leaders met today in a movie house in this Czech village in an attempt to settle peacefully a Communist bloc crisis the Russians have threatend to end by force.

The 11-man Presidium of the Czechoslovak Communist Party and the 11-man Politburo of the Soviet Union's Communist Party arrived by special trains in this village whose name in English means Glassboro, just three miles from the Russian border.

The Czech and Soviet trains were drawn up about 50 yards apart with the locomotive of each stopped just at the edge of the low, tile-roofed station. The actual meetings were taking place across the village main street from the railway station.

A Russian army signals unit set up a transmitter next to the Russian train, apparently to send messages to a similar receiver established across the Russian border. Russian soldiers and army vehicles could be seen in positions in the low bushes east of the border to protect this unprecedented meeting of the full leadership of two Communist nations.

Legislators Hoping For End Of Session

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Legislature today began what most members hope will be the final week of the longest election-year session in state history.

But before the lawmakers can adjourn for the Republican and Democratic National Conventions and for what is left of the summer, they must decide two issues--property tax relief and gun controls--which could have an impact on the November election.

So far, only one property tax relief plan has been passed by both the Senate and Assembly. It would provide $43 million in relief to businessmen by reducing the business inventory tax by 15 per cent.

The Senate passed the measure by Assemblyman John G. Veneman , R-Modesto, Saturday by a 34-3 vote. It was returned to the Assembly, which approved it earlier, for consideration of amendments.

The Senate last week killed Gov. Ronald Reagan's plan for $155 million in property tax relief for both business and residential real estate. But the issue was back before the upper house in a revised form.

The Assembly Friday passed an alternative property tax relief plan to apportion $155 million to the state's school districts upon the condition that the districts reduce their property levies.

The proposal, suggest by Assemblyman Victor Veysey, R-Brawley, differs from Reagan's plan in only one major respect. The governor wanted to apportion the money to county government.

Veysey's measure was tacked on to a Senate-passed bill by Sen. Stephen P. Teale, D-Rail Road Flat, and returned to the Senate.

The measure was skipped on the Senate agenda Saturday and Teale said he "might let it sit for awhile." Teale was one of the Senators who successfully opposed the administration bill.

The inventory tax bill requires a 15 per cent reduction in the property tax levied against goods in a businessman's warehouse or on his shelves.

To replace the revenue local government would lose from the tax cut, the bill apportions $43 million to the counties. The money is intended to be re-allocated by each county to cities, school district and other taxing agencies.

Drugs Group Reneges —Legislator

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assemblyman Robert W. Crown, D-Alameda, says the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association (PMA) has reneged on a promise not to oppose legislation he is sponsoring to save money in the Medi-Cal program.

Crown said Saturday the PMA sent Gov. Ronald Reagan a telegram urging him to veto the measure.

"The PMA has violated a cardinal rule in democracy," said. "When you give your word to someone, you stick by it. If you can't stick by it, you shouldn't make it."

Crown's legislation would ban from the Medi-Cal program drugs that have inflated prices. He said the state could save $1 million a year with the measure.

Fire Mop-Up

SAN ANDREAS (AP)—About 600 men mopped up today on two fires that burned over 700 acres in brush and sparse timber in the Sierra foothills.

Nearly 200 men controlled a 200-acre blaze 10 miles east of San Andreas just before dawn. The size estimate was scaled down from an original estimate by foresters of 400 acres.

Siamese Twin Girl Separated, Dies

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A four-day-old baby, separated from her dead Siamese twin sister in a five-hour operation yesterday, died today.

The babies were born joined at the chest. The operation separating them was termed a success by Dr. Richard Connar with the surviving infant placed in an incubator overnight.

The cause of death of the second baby was not immediately determined. An autopsy was ordered.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Blast Threat

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A burning semitrailer truck, loaded with napalm bombs and artillery shells, loomed as a powder keg for more than an hour Saturday, threatening suburban Sharonville.

Part of the heavily populated area was evacuated and Sharonville firemen braved the threat of a massive explosion to extinguish the blaze with gallons of foam. No one was hurt.

The fire apparently erupted in the right front wheels of the trailer, carrying a total of 40,000 pounds of U.S. Air Force explosives, but the interior of the trailer did not catch fire.

Criminal Claims

BOSTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Elliot L. Richardson said Saturday his office will process 400 to 1,000 claims a year from persons seeking compensation for criminal violence.

Massachusetts is the fourth state to provide compensation for victims of crime Richardson's office will investigate the validity of all claims.

The recently passed law provides maximum compensation of $10,000 for actual losses, including lost wages and medical expenses. The amount of compensatin must be determined by the District Courts.

Business Plea

AVALON (AP) — Catalina Island businessmen have wired President Johnson and Gov. Ronald Reagan to complain their once booming tourist business is fading away like their big-band era theme, "I Left My Heart in Avalon."

The telegrams yesterday appealed for help to revive steamship service which until last spring brought tourists by tens of thousands monthly to the resort island 26 miles west of Los Angeles.

Owners of the ship, known as the Big White Steamer, said they could no longer operate because of union demands on the size of crews.

The businessmen say planes and smaller boats don't match the steamer's old loads, and business has fallen by 5 per cent.

Good Health

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul's personal physician declared today the 70-year-old pontiff is enjoying "optimum health."

Dr. Mario Fontana, commenting to reporters on rumors that the Pope was experiencing some periods of ill health at his summer home in Castel Gandolfo and that aides were urging him to postpone his scheduled trip to Bogota, Colombia, next month, termed the rumors "pure fantasy."

Transplant Death

LONDON (UPI)—From the beginning surgeons made it clear that even a heart transplant operation might not save Gordon Forde. As it turned out he never regained consciousness.

Forde, 48, an accountant who became the world's 28th heart transplant patient and Britain's second, died last night slightly more than two days after he was given the heart of Derek Burkbeck, a 32-year-old auto crash victim.

Forde had been given only hours to live when the operation began.

Patient Sings

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (UPI)—Dr. Philip Blaiberg, near death a few weeks ago, was so well yesterday that he greeted nurses by lustily singing "Hello Dolly," hospital sources said today.

Blaiberg, 59, the world's longest surviving heart transplant patient, suffered such severe attacks of pneumonia and hepatitis a few weeks ago that doctors feared for his life.

Sources at Groote Schuur Hospital said he was fully recovered.

Huey Newton Trial In Third Week

OAKLAND (UPI) — The trial of Black Panther founder Huey P. Newton on charges of murdering an Oakland policeman today moved into its third week with attorneys hopeful of finally impaneling a jury.

Eleven potential jurors were in the box when Superior Court Judge Monroe Friedman recessed the trial for the weekend. Both prosecutor and defense attorney said they expected to conclude the lengthy jury selection by late today.

Newton, 26, is accused of slaying police officer John Frey, 23, and wounding a second policeman in a street gun battle last Oct. 28.

As the third week of trial began, Asst. Dist. Atty. Lowell Jensen retained eight of his 20 peremptory challenges - which can be used to remove potential jurors without a given reason. Defense attorney Charles Garry had six.

The 82nd potential juror was ready for questioning by Garry when the court recessed. Judge Friedman summoned a fourth panel of prospective jurors to report today.

Three Killed In Plane Crash

HALF MOON BAY (AP) — A small plane from San Jose plunged into Princeton Harbor yesterday afternoon, killing all three persons aboard.

Sheriff's officers said the victims were:

Marvin Carl St. Ores, 48, of Sunnyvale, believed to be the pilot.

Roy Bailey, 46, of Modesto.

George Gregory Bailey, 14, his son.

The bodies of the two adults were recovered soon after the crash. Darkness forced skin divers to postpone attempts to recover the boy's body.

Witnesses said the single-engine plane, a Cessna 182, came down through a hole in overcast in an apparent attempt to land at the Half Moon Bay airport.

THE PENNEY STORY

"One eye on quality; one on price"

By ROBERTA NASH

More often than not, in a store's newspaper advertising, the emphasis is on the price of merchandise, for this is the news that readers want to know.

But the Penney people want to be sure you understand that this emphasis on price does not represent the thinking within the Penney organization. The thing that makes Penney wheels go round is value, or what you get for that low price.

"We have to keep one eye on quality and the other on price," is the way one of our buyers put it.

PROBE WRECKAGE — Newsmen watch as officials probe the wreckage of two light planes that collided over a cemetery near Farmingdale, N.Y. last night. Eight persons were killed. (AP Wirephoto)

Two Private Planes Collide; Eight Die

FARMINGDALE, N.Y. (AP) — Eight persons, including two small girls and three women, were killed last night when two private planes collided over East Farmingdale and crashed in cemetery property.

One craft, a twin-engine Piper Aztec, went down in flames. The other, a single-engine Piper Cherokee, was demolished but did not burn. Wreckage was strewn over a large area near the Beth Moses Cemetery, part of a burial ground complex in this Long Island area.

There are no homes in the vicinity, which is largely wooded, and no one was injured on the ground.

Four persons were aboard each plane—seven of them from New York State and the eighth with both a Connecticut and New York address.

The Federal Aviation Agency said the collision occurred about 8:30 p.m. at an altitude of 800 to 1,000 feet as both craft were making their final approaches to Republic Flying Field. An FAA spokesman said the Aztec's left wing apparently struck the Cherokee.

The Cherokee, owned by Flight Safety Inc., had been en route from Providence, R.I., police said.

It could not be learned immediately who owned the Aztec or where its flight originated.

The FAA spokesman said the two planes were operating on visual flight rules, which means they were not under any traffic control. Neither plane had filed a flight plan, the spokesman added.

Suffolk County police gave the following tentative identifications of the dead:

In the Aztec: Walter Rerat, 46, the pilot, of Glenwood Landing, N.Y.; his wife, Kay, 48; and two granddaughters, Monica Ann Lee, 4, of Northport, N.Y., and her sister, Erica Susan, 3. Also in the wreckage was the Rerat family dog.

In the Cherokee: Francis R. Mazza, 25, the pilot, Cedarhurst, N.Y.; Robert Laspina, 24, of Dobbs Ferry, N.Y.; Janet Brown, 22, of Darien, Conn., and New York City, and Penelope Mansfield, in her early 20's, of New York City.

3,000 Acres Burn Near Carson City

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — A 3,000-acre fire burned out of control within two miles of Nevada's capital today but posed no immediate threat to the city.

"We are in fair shape, but we need a little luck," said Blaine Cornell, U.S. Forest Service fire control officer.

Earlier, flames crackled within 600 yards of the governor's home.

Cornell said the fire was burning out of control along a three-mile front in Ash Canyon, where the blaze started in a Sierra forest yesterday afternoon at the western edge of Carson City.

Some 250 men, a reduced force, worked through the night. Cornell explained that "the real threat" was expected with increasing daytime heat and predicted high winds.

He said an upper level fire line had kept the blaze from cresting the Sierra into the Lake Tahoe basin.

200 Stitches After Shark Attacks Diver

PLACERVILLE (AP) — Skindiver Frank Logan, with 200 stitches in his back, shoulders and chest, was recovering here today from the season's first reported shark attack off Bodega Bay 150 miles west of here.

Logan, a 25-year-old electronics laboratory technician who works for Douglas Aircraft Corp at Sacramento, said he was diving for abalone in 18 feet of water Saturday and as he made his way through the kelp three feet off the bottom he felt something grab his waist.

He turned around to see the jaws of a white shark closing in on him. He played dead as the shark swam 10 feet with him, then let him go when its teeth severed Logan's weight belt.

Logan rose quickly to the surface and shouted for help. His three companions took him to a Coast Guard station, where after first aid he was taken to a hospital at Sebastopol.

Spokesman at the hospital said they sewed up 18 separate wounds with 200 stitches. They said his condition was good when they released him yesterday afternoon to return to his Placerville home.

POPE

decision of the Pope must be accepted and obeyed by all church menbers. But in making it he rejected the recommendation of a liberal majority of his birth control study commission. Vatican observers predicted today's document would provoke a major crisis within the church.

The Pope's decision was announced by Msgr. Ferdinando Lambruschini, the Vatican's theologian, who called it an act of great courage. He said Paul acted "knowing it would not be easily accepted by all."

The decision is uncompromisingly conservative in maintaining the church's traditional opposition to artificial means of birth control, and it comes as Catholic resistance to this stand appears to be growing.

Yesterday, nearly half the priests in the Washington, D.C., Archdiocese rebelled against their cardinal's rejection of contraception for Roman Catholics. And in West Germany, some priests have made a practice for some time of absolving Catholics who confess to practicing contraception.

Those were isolated examples, but liberal churchmen in Rome predicted that a conservative statement would create a crisis, and they did not exclude the possibility many Catholics will leave the church in disappointment.

Senator's Kin Caught In Drug Raid

RAPID CITY, S.D. (UPI)—The daughter of Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., could be imprisoned five years and fined $5,000 on a charge of illegal possession of narcotics. But chances are good she won't.

Minimum punishment on conviction is two years, and a judge may even suspend that for a first offender, which Teresa McGovern, 19, is.

Miss McGovern whose father is running for re-election, and a young man and woman today were free on $2,500 bond each after their motel room was raided by state agents Friday night.

Police said they confiscated "a quantity of marijuana and other narcotic paraphernilia," including some pills and hand-rolled cigarettes, in the room in which Miss McGovern, Barry Mogin, 19, Silver Springs, Md., and Mary Shanley, 24, Evanston, Ill., were arrested.

Shot Fired To Prevent A Fight

Sheriff's deputies fired a warning shot near the San Rafael Courthouse today to prevent four San Rafael youths from using clubs in an attack on two Novato brothers.

Deputies said the four, three of them brothers, were teamed up in an attack on Frank Bonomolo, 22, and his 19-year-old brother, George, outside the Fifth Street entrance to the courthouse at 11:30 a.m.

The sheriff's office received a call for assistance from the older Bonomolo after the two found themselves facing a fight at the courthouse. Bonomolo, who said the four sought a grudge match from an earlier encounter in Novato, said he called for help when he noticed one of the four carrying a two-foot club.

Deputy Arthur Williams and two others came on the scene just as the fight began. Williams said he fired a shot in the air when he realized that weapons were involved. Williams said the shot stopped the fight immediately.

Booked on suspicion of disturbing the peace, assault and battery were Steven O'Brien, 19, of 720 B Street, his two brothers, Daniel, 21, and Creg, 20, and Robert Acree, 19, of 209 Cardinal Road. Deputies confiscated a three-inch razor along with the club.

The four were held on $565 bail.

Youth Claims Assault By Three Men

San Rafael police today were investigating an assault upon an 18-year-old San Rafael youth at a local service station early Saturday by a young man with whom he and two friends had fought minutes earlier outside Bermuda Palms hotel.

Charles T. Sawyer, 18, of Woodacre, said he suffered a deep gash in his forehead, police said, when his assailant threw him bodily from the rest room of a service station at Third Street and Grand Avenue. Sawyer was taken by friends to Marin General Hospital, where he received stitches in his forehead and was released.

Sawyer's friends were Richard P. Silvas, 19, and Arthur J. Mueller, 17. Silvas told police he lived in San Rafael, while Mueller said he lived in San Anselmo.

They said they had been evicted from the Bermuda Palms by Sawyer's attacker and two other young men, and had been told by these men that they would have been beaten up if the men were not on duty as bouncers.

Sawyer, Silvas and Mueller walked on foot through the hotel parking lot when the three men suddenly appeared, announced that they had quit work, and started assaulting Sawyer and Silvas. Mueller said that he and another man, unidentified, managed finally to separate the combatants.

The youths proceeded to the service station, police reported, where Sawyer and Silvas were cleansing their wounds when the main suspect and two other men drove up in a dark-colored auto and resumed the altercation.

Police said that Sawyer and his friends were vague about why they had been asked to leave the hotel.

Light Rain Falls In Marin Drizzle

A light rain sprinkled most parts of Marin yesterday afternoon and again early today, with most local weather stations reporting just enough rain to wet the ground but not enough to measure.

Despite the drizzles and overcast, temperatures remained warm with a county high of 83 reported in Woodacre.

The weather bureau predicts continued overcast in the mornings, clearing in the afternoons, with temperatures in the 70's.

Electrician Hit By Falling Pole

Bruce L. Williams of 30 Corte Morada was given oxygen by the Corte Madera Fire Department and then treated at Marin General Hospital.

SPLIT

Baines has discussed with Donald O. Stutsman, executive director of the housing authority, the addition of some kind of food service establishment.

Black Arms, according to assistant editor Bullock, is headquartered only temporarily in Baine's office. The publishers hope to find a printing press and go to weekly publication, Bullock said. Present publishing schedule is once every two weeks.

Although Baines insists Black Arms is not a part of Black Advance, various Marin City leaders are equally insistent that Baines, rather than Williams and Bullock, is its actual proprietor.

Financing of the publication is unclear. It carries no advertising and no sales price.

The division over Black Arms is one that runs in other matters in Marin City: integration vs. separatism. Residents who want to integrate Negro and Causcasian races are disturbed by the separatist tone and the suggestions of violence in Black Arms.

Baines is recognized as speaking for young militants within the community — where there is the same lack of understanding between youth and adults often remarked in the white community. Black Advance, according to Baines, is aimed at turning this militance to use in building up and improving the community instead of tearing it down. Hence the slogan, "Build, baby, build," to replace "Burn, baby, burn."

The anti-capitalistic slogans in Black Arms, however, seem to contradict Black Advance's aim of building Negro capitalism in Marin City. Its suggestions of armed violence have upset conservatives in the community.

Many Marin City residents regard Black Arms as the voice of Black Advance. How deep the feeling runs may be gathered from the remarks of one Marin City housewife, who said Black Advance "is causing more dissension in a community that is already too divided. It preaches hate for the 'white honkies' and any black persons that do not go along with their program of threats and intimidation."

Fire Destroys Old Marine Ways

Fire destroyed the old marine ways at Gate 3 on Sausalito's waterfront Saturday night. The cause is under investigation.

The fire broke out at 8:56 p.m. and the main blaze was quelled 15 minutes later. But firemen had to rip and saw to follow each spot fire underneath the planking, a process that took until 2 a.m. yesterday.

Capt. Ralph K. Pederson said there have been four or five big fires in the area in the last couple of years because of the rotting condition of the ways which were used to launch Liberty ships during World War 11.

More than 2500 square feet of dock was burned. The owners of the property is Dolin Arques.

The Alto Fire Department sent an engine to stand by at Sausalito Station 1.

Fire Rekindled; $2,000 Damage

A Sunday afternoon barbecue fire flared up at 12:35 a.m. today and caused $2,000 damage at two San Rafael homes, firemen reported.

Wind apparently fanned hot ashes in the barbecue behind the William H. Sherman home at 430 Mission Avenue, firemen said. The fire spread into a grape arbor, damaging it and a fence. Total damage at the Mission Avenue home was $1,500.

The fire spread through the grape arbor to a garage owned by Allen Currie of 1200 Grand Avenue which adjoins 430 Mission Avenue at the rear, firemen said. Damage there was $500.

No one was hurt.

Jobless Benefits Dropped In June

Jobless benefits paid through the San Rafael office of the state employment department dropped more than $28,000 in June, compared to May. The figure was $65,000 lower than June 1967.

Unemployment payments last month totaled $182,072. The May figure was $210,966 and the June, 1967 total was $247,490.

The state total for June was less than $30 million, according to Peter Weinberger, director of the state department of employment.

DEMONSTRATOR — Officers subdue and handcuff a demonstrator who scuffled with them as they attempted to handcuff him in front of a Los Angeles hotel where Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey was talking. A total of 17 persons were arrested yesterday. (UP Telephoto)

Humphrey Would Restore Viet Peace

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said today his first task if elected president "will be to restore peace in Vietnam."

He told a Town Hall luncheon in a prepared speech America must seek to strengthen the alternative to conflict "and in Vietnam that alternative is clear."

South Vietnam's affairs, he said, "should be run by the people who live there, not by Washington or Hanoi."

Humphrey said this course means free elections "in which all can vote and all can run for office, with guarantees against force and intimidation."

And he added, "it means being willing to accept the results of these elections."

Humphrey arrived here Saturday on a four-day campign visit. He will fly to San Francisco tomorrow.

While he met privately yesterday afternoon with the state's 174-vote Democratic delegation pledged to the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, an antiwar rally was staged outside the hotel.

Many of the protestors, estimated by police at 3,000, carried signs boosting the candidacy of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn.

There were 17 arrests. Most were youths who refused to move when ordered by police, authorities said, while others were taken into custody after they climbed on to the fountain in front of the hotel.

Demonstrators marched quietly in a line around the block and many of them gathered at the front of the hotel chanting "get out, get out of Vietnam" and "Hell no, we won't go; hell no, we won't go."

The demonstration was organized by the Peace Action Council, the same group that protested an appearance at the hotel of President Johnson on June 23, 1967, when about 50 per were arrested and an equal number injured in clashes with police.

Humphrey's campaign last night moved to the storybook castle of Camelot at the Warner Bros.-Seven Arts studio lot at the foot of the Hollywood hills in nearby Burbank.

The political rally was organized by Nancy Sinatra and Young Citizens for Humphrey.

Humphrey, addressing the 3,000 young people in the castle courtyard, quipped: "I'm not interested in being king—just president."

Many in the audience were former supporters of the late senator from New York. Mentions of both Robert Kennedy and McCarthy brought sustained applause.

The vice president's brief talk was interrupted once after a "Stop-the-Killing, Hubert" banner was unfurled across the courtyard and several youths were hustled away by police.

The movieland castle was heavily guarded by Secret Service agents who took high perches in the castle towers.

Humphrey told his young audience he approves of lowering the voting age to 18 and changing the draft law to a lottery system.

"Both my heart and my record are in the right place," he said.

Humphrey was forced to quit speaking at a Watts political rally Saturday in the predominantly Negro section of Los Angeles.

A group of young militants, booing and shouting "Honkie go Home," drowned out his voice. He left within minutes.

Air Tanker's Crew Cited For Breaking The Rules

MERCED (UPI) — The crew of a Strategic Air Command KC135 Stratotanker has been cited by the Air Force for meritorious service as a result of an incident over Vietnam that nearly resulted in their court martial.

The Mackay Trophy presented by the Air Force for the "most meritorious flight of the year" went to Maj. John H. Casteel, 34, and his crew stationed at Castle Air Force Base in Merced.

Maj. Casteel and his crew were also awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for their action which broke several Air Force regulations but saved six Navy jet fighter pilots an their planes.

The incident occurred off the coast of Vietnam May 31 when the KC135, attempting to refuel two Air Force 104s at the designated 30,000 feet, began monitoring calls from six Navy fighters who were trying to protect a fellow pilot downed in enemy territory.

The Navy fliers said they were nearly out of fuel and asked if the Stratotanker could drop to 5,000 feet to refuel them.

Maj. Casteel complied and began refueling the Navy jets despite the fact communications between the planes was hampered because he did not know the Navy's radio frequency or signals and they were flying too low to be picked up on radar.

In order to preserve enough fuel to reach Da Nang, the Stratotanker had to pull off a trick tri-level refueling operation—gassing up two jets at the same time.

After refueling all eight fighter planes, Maj. Casteel and his crew managed to limp their nearly empty Stratotanker to Da Nang.

Other members of the award-winning crew include Capt. Richard L. Trail, 31, copilot; Capt. Dan L. Hoar, 30, navigator; and M.Sgt. Nathan C. Campbell, 35, boom operator.

Pennsylvania Avenue in Washington has borne the funeral processions of six Presidents.

State Exposition Losing Money

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The new $34 million California State Exposition and Fair is losing money — with daily attendance figures averaging 19,000 less than what officials say they'll need to break even.

An average of 6,173 persons a day have visited the 1,040-acre site since Gov. Ronald Reagan opened the facility's gates July 1.

A minimum of 25,000 visitors a day was needed to break even, officials said.

The gloomy figures were made public with the announcement that Cal Expo would cutback the number of hours it stayed open. Instead of 1 p.m. to 10 p.m., Cal Expo will open at 4 p.m. and close its gates at 11 p.m.

Canada Now Is Suffering Lack Of Silver Coinage

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — Who's hoarding all the Canadian dimes and quarters?

That's what the banks, the stores and everyone else would like to know as the shortage of Canadian coins seems to grow day by day.

Canada and Switzerland are the only two countries still using silver for coins, and the Royal Canadian Mint in Ottawa will switch from silver to pure nickel coins Aug. 1.

Meanwhile, however, the mint can't keep up with the demand for silver coins. Some people are hoarding the dimes and quarters because of the value of the silver in them and some apparently are being smuggled to the United States.

It is illegal to melt Canadian coinage in Canada and there are limits on the amount of coins that can be taken out of the country.

It is not illegal, however, to melt the coins in the United States, and the Oregon Journal quotes an investigator at the Canadian customs office in Vancouver as saying, "We had reports that dealers here had been carrying large volumes of silver coins into the United States and we found it was quite so."

The Journal also quotes an unidentified sergeant in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police at Vancouver as saying there have been three recent seizures of coins—with a total worth of more than $325,000—from persons going from Canada to the United States.

The sergeant also is quoted as saying that U.S. dealers were advertising they would pay $1,200 to $1,300 for a $1,000 bag of Canadian coins because of the silver value.

Canadian quarters and dimes made in the last year have 50 per cent silver content. Before that coins had 80 per cent silver. With the silver price around $2.50 an ounce, a coin expert says silver in a 25-cent piece is worth 37.5 cents, a 50-cent coin 75 cents and a silver dollar $1.50.

Banks say their coin stocks are very low and that orders they send the mint are being only partially filled. Stores can't get what they want from the banks so many of them are politely asking shoppers to dig into their pockets for change.

"Even nickels are getting short," said one store manager. "However, we manage to make change somehow."

The kit fox, just slightly larger than a house cat, is the smallest of the fox family.

Antiwar Feelings Based On Moral Views Called Service To The U.S.

By JOANNE GRANT

Persons, who feel deeply that the war in Vietnam is morally wrong and refuse to answer the draft because of those feelings, are serving their country, the secretary of the International Humanist and Ethical Union believes.

"It is a very healthy and important part of the growth of the United States to allow people who have conscientious feelings to follow them," said Tolbert H. McCarroll, IHEU secreatry who lives at 293 Knight Drive, San Rafael.

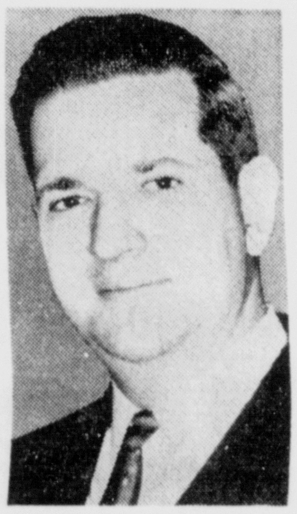
McCarroll carefully distinguished between the person who because of religious or ethical beliefs cannot fight a war from the draft dodger who doesn't want to put in two years.

McCarroll, in an interview Saturday following his return from an 11-day international humanist conference in Hanover, Germany, said he thinks this is what Dr. Benjamin Spock is trying to tell young people.

The conference cabled Dr. Spock a message supporting his "work in helping young men to face issues of conscience with integrity."

McCarroll, director of San Francisco Humanist House where IHEU is headquartered, was responsible at the conference for convening and supervising four working parties of international experts on youth, moral education, humanist advancement and counselling.

Conference support of the experimental or free university plan and a plea for the rebirth of the vision of the university as a place of learning rather than a factory for the production of diplomas came through the group studying youth, he said.



TOLBERT H. McCARROLL
Humanist Director

"So often education is passing on factual knowledge," McCarroll commented. It ought to also teach you how to life your life, he said.

He sees the major function of the experimental or free university as an influence on the other phases of education and noted steps by some colleges and universities to introduce a dialogue among students.

We're very strong on dialogue," McCarroll said, explaining the humanist religion is based on man's relation to man.

At the conference, he reported on an intensive dialogue project at San Francisco Humanist House aimed at developing values for living.

He called it "getting the gut and the head together" rather than an abstract philosophy.

The sessions draw an amazing cross-section of mostly younger people who tend to be mature, he said. Its purpose is to realize potentials, not overcome proglems.

The theory is human fulfillment — one of the main themes of the conference.

The humanist movement was founded in 1952 with Julian Huxley as its first president. The international group is a union of about 30 such groups from around the world.

It takes on major projects, such as its current economic self-help program in India, and fosters communication between various branches.

At its conference, there was general agreement that a person cannot separate improving himself from improving society. He must work on both.

In America the chief concern of the humanists is solving social problems through understanding, McCarroll said.

The human rights problem is currently at the core. "I don't think any of us realize the intensity of human rights struggles throughout the world," McCarroll commented.

During the conference he led a tribute to Dr. Martin Luther King, "a victim in what has become the international war for human rights."

"It is awar," he said. "In a war there are victims."

He said the solution lies not only in equal rights, but also involves society learning to accept different values.

He is optimistic about the outcome of the "war." And his faith is in ordinary people, not political leaders.

In the Bay Area, he said, the real work is being done on an indivudual basis by the ordinary people, both black and white. There is more to be done.

"For a humanist life, is not only a gift, but a challenge," McCarroll quoted from a speech at the conference by Dr. S. L. Mansholt, vice president of the European Economic Community and member of the Dutch Humanist League.

For McCarroll, that's where it all begins.

Pair Rescued In Bay Mishap

A Coast Guard cutter carried two San Francisco residents into Sausalito Yacht Harbor yesterday at 4:30 p.m. after a boating accident near the Golden Gate Bridge.

The Coast Guard reported that David Wilson, owner of the sailboat, Mary Mary, apparently fell overboard near Lime Point at 4 p.m., leaving a companion, Gretchen Baker, alone in the boat with no knowledge of sailing.

The Coast Guard dispatched a helicopter and an 82-foot cutter to the scene while another boat in the area pulled Wilson from the water after 15 minutes. Miss Baker was taken from the sailboat by the Coast Guard cutter. Wilson was transferred to the cutter off Point Barrow.

Goldsmith Son Arrested Again —Marijuana

I-J Special Report

ATHERTON — Keith R. Goldsmith, son of U. S. Commissioner Richard S. Goldsmith of Mill Valley, was arrested here Saturday on suspicion of possession of marijuana — his third arrest in 16 months.

Goldsmith, 24, of Menlo Park, was stopped near his home by Atherton police on suspicion of reckless driving. Police said they found marijuana in his vehicle, and Goldsmith was booked at the San Mateo County Jail. Arraignment was set for today.

Menlo Park and Palo Alto police arrested Goldsmith last May, and he was charged with possession of marijuana. He is awaiting trial on that charge in San Mateo Superior Court.

In March, 1967, Goldsmith was arrested in a raid on a San Francisco apartment by state narcotics agents. He was charged with possession of marijuana, but the charge later was dismissed on the ground that the agents had violated federal and state laws by failing to identify themselves when they raided the apartment.

Cab Strike Threat Ends In Contract

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A threatened strike by 1,200 Yellow Cab drivers was averted yesterday when Teamsters Union members ratified a new three-year contract.

The pact raises vacation pay from $77.50 to $90 a week, provides a pension increase and improves other fringe benefits.

The vote was 432-148 in favor of the new contract.

31-Year-Old Cyclist Injured In Spill

A 31-year-old Santa Venetia man was injured in a fall from a motorcycle at 4:30 p.m. Saturday afternoon on North San Pedro Road near Buck's Landing, the California Highway Patrol reported.

80 College Presidents Ask Debates

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Eighty university and college presidents have called on presidential candidates to debate before the party conventions, it was announced here today.

"As university presidents, we feel it is the obligation of the major candidates to air their thoughts before the general public," said a statement, signed by the presidents.

It was released by Dr. Robert Goheen, president of Princeton; Dr. R. G. Folsom, president of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N.Y., and Dr. John Nason, president of Carleton College, Northfield, Minn.

The statement noted that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy have called for debates with their opponents—Richard M. Nixon and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

"We urge Mr. Nixon and Vice President Humphrey to accept these invitations and let their cases stand the test of open discussion and rebuttal which such a debate would insure," the college presidents said.

Humphrey has agreed to debate McCarthy during the final week before the Democratic convention opens on Aug. 26, but has said he thought further debates useless because McCarthy was a "one-issue candidate."

Nixon has said repeatedly he will not debate any other Republican, but will concentrate on "unifying" the party.

Reagan Recall Effort Deadline Wednesday

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Ronald Reagan may find out in the next three days whether he must face a recall election that, if it's held at all, would deal a decisive blow to his presidential prospects.

A six-month campaign to oust the Republican governor reaches a deadline Wednesday for gathering the 780,414 signatures required to put the recall issue before voters in November.

The recall backers charge that Reagan "is not competent in matters of government and public affairs," accuse him of undermining the state's mental health program, hurting education and trying to further his personal ambitions from the governor's office.

But, the recall effort could well be a two-edged weapon.

There are eight million registered voters in California eligible to sign petitions. Three out of five of them are Democrats. If six months of gathering signatures can't find one million voters dissatisfied enough to at least sign their names, it could react to Reagan's benefit.

The California Republican insists he isn't a formal candidate for the GOP presidential nomination. But, he also says he won't turn it down.

As a practical political matter Reagan will be out of contention on the national ticket if the recall backers are able to solicit enough signatures to force an election.

It appears most unlikely the Republicans would want a candidate for either president or vice president who must also fight to retain his governorship.

The recall effort has been strictly an amateur operation led by Edwin Koupal, Orangevale, a Sacramento suburb, and his wife, Joyce.

"If it's humanly possible for amateurs without any money to do it, then we're going to do it," Mrs. Koupal said in an interview.

She said the signature count has reached 800,000 but conceded that figure was a guess because "they're pouring in so fast we really don't have time to count them."

Newsmen have not been able to verify the total because petitions are scattered over various parts of the state and won't be turned in to the 58 county clerks until Wednesday—a technique Reagan said he had expected and considered a "grandstand play."

But the governor — and delegates to the Republican National Convention — should know when the convention opens Aug. 5 in Miami Beach whether the recall effort is successful.

Privately, Reagan aides claim they have done some checking and don't expect the valid signatures to total more than 300,000.

Reagan and other top party officials ignored the recall until recently. The governor appeared to take it seriously for the first time at a July 2 news conference when he said he was "willing to take my chances on what the people decide."

Sound Equipment Stolen From Home

A $170 AM-FM tuner, amplifier and turntable combination was taken from a San Rafael home in a burglary between 8 p.m. and 10 p.m. Saturday, police reported.

The thief forced open a window on the north side of the home of Richard T. Kaemmer, 11 Marquard Avenue, officers said.

Girl On Rope Hurt In Fall To Creek

A 14-year-old Larkspur girl swinging on a rope tied to a tree was injured yesterday when she fell more than 20 feet into a dry creek bed in Madrone Canyon, police reported.

Jill Hannick of 30 Locust Avenue was listed in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with both wrists fractured, facial cuts and possible rib injuries.

Police said the fall occurred at 1:55 p.m. while the girl was swinging on a rope tied to a tree overlooking a bank and the creek bed. Similar falls have occurred from the same rope in the past, police said.

Larkspur firemen carried the girl on a stretcher for nearly a mile along a narrow dirt trail before getting her to an ambulance, police said.

Sniping Death Charged To Second Man

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland police today charged a second man with first-degree murder in connection with the sniper shootings of three policemen last Tuesday night.

Lathan Donald, 19, Cleveland, was charged on one affidavit covering all three shootings. He was being held in the prison ward of Metropolitan General Hospital.

Fred Ahmed Evans, 37, a black nationalist an astrologer alleged to have led the snipers, pleaded innocent Saturday to three first-degree murder counts.

Evans is also being held on charges of shooting with intent to kill, possession of narcotics and possession of a carbine.

Seven Negro civilians were killed in the violence which followed the sniper attack on the three policemen in Cleveland's Glenville area.

Senator Magnuson To Seek Reelection

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William G. Magnuson, D-Wash., announced today his candidacy for a fifth Senate term. He said nominating papers for the Sep. 17 Democratic papers wil be filed today in Olympia, Wash.

Magnuson, 63, also told a news conference he didn't expect the Vietnam war to be a significant issue in his senatorial campaign "as long as the peace talks in Paris are going on."

214 Million Processed By Customs In Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly 214 million persons—an influx greater than the nation's population—entered the United States in the fiscal year which ended June 30, the Bureau of Customs reported today.

American travelers returning from abroad, foreign visitors and persons shuttling between nations were in the stream of arrivals, up 5.8 per cent from the previous year's total of 202 million.

Commissioner of Customs Lester D. Johnson reported customs collections totaled $2.9 billion, an increase of 8.4 per cent.

All the old gimmicks and occasional new ones are being used by smugglers, customs men said. Hiding places for narcotics recently have included a stuffed armadillo, a wooden leg and a cage containing five live iguanas.

BART Diggers Finding Relics

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Workmen are digging up relics of the past as they gouge out the subway tunnels and a transbay tube channel for the Bay Area Rapid Transit District.

Some may be valuable, but most of the finds are of limited use to hisotrians.

Buttons, bottles, dishes, rusty horseshoes and trolley tracks have been dug up.

Historians are on the lookout for anchors and anchor chains, ship's hardware and hulls—any evidence of the Gold Rush era or early Spanish settlement.

The Matthews car struck the guard rail at 1:20 a.m. and the couple was found lying beside the car. The California Highway Patrol had no details on the accident today.

OREGON FIREMEN IN LOSING BATTLE

Volunteer Youth Power Group Formed To Propose Activities

The first meeting of Youth Power broke up shortly after noon Saturday without anything resolved, but five members of the new pre-voting age group and Supervisor Peter H. Behr formed a volunteer committee to develop a structure and propose activities to the membership.

There was a general consensus of the 25 or so high school and college students — who remained to the end, out of 33 who met at the civic center — that they would assemble again next Saturday morning, hopefully in greater numbers.

The few — less than a dozen — who spoke at the first meeting were lukewarm to the one concrete idea which was on their "agenda" at the start. This was the possibility of one of their number serving on each of various advisory commissions appointed by the board of supervisors.

Behr and Pierre W. Joske, Director of the Department of Parks and Recreation, both applauded the idea, but the students who spoke up were less enthusiastic.

Walter Turner, member of the Black Students for Action at College of Marin, said, "It's my contention that if you decide to work within the system you run into a lot of hassles."

Peter Harrington of Mill Valley, a member of the Marin Peace and Freedom Party, urged the group to broaden its endeavors beyond the county commissions, while not ignoring the possibilities there. He asked for an investigation into the rights of students at Marin High schools to engage in political action, such as pamphleteering, on campus.

Harrington also urged the other students to dig into the recesses of county government to find out "who are the people behind (the supervisors)."

One girl suggested that they could accomplish more if they did not disdain opportunities to work within the system, but Turner was not impressed.

"We didn't work through the system at College of Marin when we wanted black studies courses," he said.

"We got together and we told them, "In this day and age, if you don't have a course in black history, you're absurd; and if you want to be absurd, we'll just get together on the lawn and teach it."

(Black studies courses were proposed last year by the Negro student group at the college. After meetings with faculty department chairmen and administrators, the students brought their proposals to the college's Instructional Committee of faculty, administrators and students.

This committee approved five courses and the college trustees gave their sanction July 18. The courses, to be offered this fall, are in Afro-American music, African art history, Afro-American literature, Afro-American history and "The Dynamics of Race in Urban America" (a sociology course).

The first meeting unearthed no proposals that would require great sums of money. This was fortunate, because when one youth asked where funds were to come from, Youth Power organizer Marti Trent grimaced and said, "We don't have any."

The students were not without resources, however. Austin J. Thompson, director of the Marin County Human Rights Department, offered practical assistance: "We'll help you with paper and things, but we won't tell you what to do so don't expect us to."

This seemed agreeable to the students.

$11 Million In School Funds Set

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — State school funds to Marin schools will total $11,474,619 in fiscal 1968-69, or $459-175 more than estimated in early March.

The increase was because of higher enrollment figures reported March 31 by Marin schools, the state Department of Education said.

The total includes $7,459,515 for elementary schools, $2,774,-114 for high schools, $901,653 for Marin Junior College District, and $339,337 for the county school's office.

The statewide total is $1,242,-360,472.

Boy's Joke Fire Burns An Acre, Damages Homes

A 14-year-old boy who threw a match into dry grass and brush on a Corte Madera hillside Saturday afternoon "as a joke" set off a blaze which burned over an acre and damaged underpinnings on three homes.

Corte Madera police said that the boy's 17-year-old brother had remarked that it would be "nice" if the weeds were removed from around their home and in response, the younger brother flipped a match into them.

A strong wind hampered firemen in their efforts to douse the fire, which was finnally finally controlled as it licked at the supports of the houses.

The boys' father said that he would see that the homeowners at 145, 139 and 135 Granada Drive were paid for the damage.

Novato Police Nab Man With 'Synthetic Pot'

What may be the first case of the possession of synthetic marijuana in Marin County came with the arrest of an 18-year-old man Friday in Novato, according to Novato police.

Robert Henkle Reno Jr., of Concord, N. H., was booked into Marin County jail on the suspicion of the possession of marijuana with bail set at $1,250, police reported. He was scheduled to appear this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court.

Reno and three other people were stopped by police at 7:46 p.m. Friday when they were hiking at Simmons Lane and Virginia Avenue. Reno appeared to be under the influence of a narcotic and showed police two capsules filled with a white powder which he said was synthetic marijuana, according to police reports. The powder will be sent to the state Narcotics Bureau for analysis, according to police.

Last Mayo Found Dead In His Car

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — Dr. Charles W. Mayo, who died yesterday, was born with a famous name—a circumstance he sometimes regretted when he was compared to his father and uncle who founded the clinic here which bears their name.

But he not only made a reputation as a brilliant surgeon in his own right—he made his mark in education and diplomacy.

He was found dead in his overturned automobile on his 70th birthday yesterday. Neighbors discovered Dr. Mayo's body in his car in a ditch near his home shortly after he left on his usual Sunday morning drive. An autopsy was to be performed to determine the cause of death.

Some persons—including Dwight D. Eisenhower when he was president—said Mayo's real calling was in politics.

Although he accepted Eisenhower's call to serve as an alternate delegate to the United Nations in 1953, Mayo turned down all bids to enter politics.

The clinic came first, he said. "I'd be no good in politics."

When his father, Dr. Charles H. Mayo, and his uncle, Dr. William Mayo, died in 1939 he was the only Dr. Mayo at the clinic.

He joined the clinic in 1931 as a surgery section. From 1960 until his retirement in 1963 he was the senior surgeon at the Mayo Clinic.

His wife, Alice, died in November 1967. He is survived by four sons, two daughters, three sisters and eight grandchildren.

Private funeral services will be held Wednesday.

Time Off For Blood

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A There's a new way employees of the Kentucky state government can get a half-day holiday. Gov. Louis Nunn approved a time-off plan for those who donate blood to the Red Cross bloodmobile.

Cahill Says Collision Course Set

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Police Chief Thomas J. Cahill said yesterday he knows of no compromise that would avert a collision between him and the Police Commission over replacement of a key inspector.

A showdown could come at the commission's scheduled meeting late today when the three members were expected to consider replacement of Thomas J. Fitzpatrick, head of both the intelligence and vice units.

Two members, both appointed by Mayor Joseph L. Alioto, are backing replacement of Fitzpatrick by patrolman Edward Nevin, a college friend of Alioto.

But Chief Cahill opposes replacement of Fitzpatrick and was reported ready to resign in protest if the commission forces through a change.

"I had hoped there might be some settlement by now, but that was before this all blew up," Cahill said yesterday.

The current crisis began last Thursday when Supervisor Terry Francois called for Cahill's resignation and said he had "outlived his usefulness."

Francois, a Negro, charged Cahill had not placed sufficient Negro members on the intelligence unit.

Car Stolen From Burglary Victims

A Peacock Gap resident who appears frequently on Bay Area television stations in commercials for an automobile sales firm was the victim of thieves Saturday for the second time in three weeks.

Mary Lou Wessman, wife of Roger (Jim) Wessman, 281 Riviera Drive, told police the couple's 1968 Plymouth two-door auto was stolen from in front of the home between 3 p.m. and 8 p.m.

More than $12,000 in furs and jewelry were taken in a burglary at the Wessman home July 8, police reported.

Father, Daughter Injured In Crash

A Novato man and his 3-year-old daughter suffered injuries yesterday when their car hit a utility pole in Novato.

Roger M. Flaherty, 30, of 103 Trish Drive, was treated at Novato General Hospita Hospital for a cut forehead. His daughter Janet Lyn was treated for bruises.

The California Highway Patrol said Flaherty, driving in the 800 block on Sutro Avenue, Novato, at 4:45 p.m., swerved to avoid a dog and hit the pole.

UNDERCOVER MAN—David Emerson Gumaer, who posed for two years as a member of what he calls the Communist youth apparatus, will speak on his experiences and findings at 3 p.m. Friday at the Little Theatre, Redwood High School, Larkspur. His appearance is sponsored by the John Birch Society's Truth About Civil Turmoil (TACT) committee.

Fisherman Dies Aboard Boat Near Drake's Bay

A 44-year-old man from Morro Bay, San Luis Obispo County, died Saturday night, apparently of a heart attack, while aboard a fishing boat in Drake's Bay near Point Reyes, Asst. Coroner Eugene R. Fontaine reported.

Eldie Alcorn was aboard a small fishing boat about two miles south of Point Reyes when the apparent heart seizure occurred at approximately 5:30 p.m., according to the Coast Guard.

A helicopter was dispatched, the Coast Guard said, but returned without Alcorn when it was determined he had died.

The boat was returned to the Point Reyes Coast Guard station at 6:15 p.m. by Alcorn's fishing partner, the Coast Guard reported. The fishing partner was not identified.

Dredging Of San Rafael Creek Urged

I-J Special Report

WASHINGTON — Quick approval of a $120,000 dredging of San Rafael Creek by the Army Corps of Engineers has been urged by Reps. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, and Don H. Clausen, R-First District.

The Army acknowledged unofficially this month that the channel needs dredging, but that its first priority was on flood control projects, not recreation projects. Pleasure boats have been caught on shoals in the channel at low tide.

The two representatives, in a joint letter Friday to Brig. Gen. Charles A. Noble, director of civil works for the Corps., urged "normal maintenance dredging" of the channel at a cost of $120,000.

The dredging previously was scheduled this year, but funds for it were not included in the Administration's budget, they said. Now, however, additional funds for maintenance are about to be put into the budget, pending final passage by the Congress, the representatives said.

Welfare Worker Exams Announced

The tests will be held in centrally located areas through the state. Deadline for applications is Aug. 9.

Applicants must have at least six months' experience as an eligibility worker I or in a comparable position or the equivalent of two years of college. More information may be obtained from the Marin County Department of Public Social Services or from the Merit System Examining Agency, 1217 H Street, Sacramento.

Car theft is often the first offense that later turns a boy into a full-time criminal. A lot of the fault is yours. You make car theft so easy. (Last year 76% of stolen cars were left unlocked; nearly half also had ignition keys in them.) Quite a temptation. You realize how great this temptation is when you know that 64% of people arrested for car theft are under 18. When you carelessly walk away from your unlocked car, you may be avoiding a 10-second job, but starting someone on a 10-year sentence.

Don't help a boy go bad.
When you park, take your keys.

ACT NOW—YOUR ENROLLMENT FORM MUST BE MAILED BY MIDNIGHT, SATURDAY, AUGUST 3, OR IT CANNOT BE ACCEPTED

One out of two families will have someone in the hospital this year! It could be you – or some beloved member of your family tomorrow... next week... next month. Sad to say, very few families have anywhere near enough coverage to meet today's soaring hospital costs. These costs have tripled in just a few short years. They are expected to double again in the few years ahead.

Stop for a moment. Think how much a long stay in the hospital will cost you or a loved one. How would you ever pay for costly, but necessary, X-rays, doctor bills, drugs and medicines? What would you do with your pay check stopped, but living expenses still going on the same as ever? The same rent, phone, food, all the day-to-day expenses that never stop.

What is the average breadwinner to do? We believe we have the answer in the famous Presidential Extra Cash Plan that ... Pays you $100.00 a week tax-free cash when you go to the hospital.

Now, Presidential's economy plan enables you to enjoy this protection. Mail the Enrollment Form. We will send you the actual policy to look over at home. No rush. No agent will call or phone you. Take 15 days to decide. Show the policy to a friend, a family adviser first. You lose nothing if you don't want the policy. But if you do want it, you're entitled to Presidential's special low rates described below. So low, you'll find you get protection at a price that's just a fraction of what you'd expect to pay.

Your cash benefits increase each year — at no extra cost to you!

Your cash benefits automatically rise year after year. You get peace of mind so you don't have to worry about rising costs. Your protection automatically increases $3.00 a week each year. The first year you get $100.00 a week. You get $103.00 a week in the second year. $106.00 a week in the third year. $109.00 a week in the fourth year. By the eleventh year, your policy will be worth a full $130.00 a week in benefit payments... at no increase in cost to you! This generous cash reserve protection will belong to you for as long as you keep the policy. You can see that your insurance will be worth much more than the present "face value" of the policy. Certainly, our increased payments to you will help keep pace with rising costs – and best of all...

...The increasing benefits come to you at no extra cost. You still pay the regular low Presidential premium!

What other Plan protects you like this today? What other Plan keeps protecting you against rising living costs in the years ahead without increasing your premiums? And that's not all. This special Presidential Extra Cash Plan (#HP 18L-1067)...

PAYS Up to $10,000.00 CASH for each accident or illness, starting the very first day in the hospital.

PAYS $100.00 A WEEK CASH – if you need a full-time registered nurse when you come home from the hospital – up to 50 weeks.

PAYS $1,000.00 EXTRA CASH for accidental death.

PAYS Up to $2,000.00 CASH for accidental loss of limbs or eyesight.

PAYS $100.00 A WEEK CASH for each pregnancy, when you go to the hospital, assuming both husband and wife have been enrolled in the Family Plan With Maternity.

PAYS Up to $5,000.00 when a child goes to the hospital for any accident or illness when you are enrolled in the Family Plan.

PAYS you cash benefits that increase each year... to a maximum of $130.00-A-WEEK... at no extra cost to you

NO age limit – no medical examination required

IF YOU ARE 65 OR OVER YOU WILL COLLECT IN ADDITION TO MEDICARE

Why are smart folks over 65 now hastening to protect themselves with the Presidential Extra Cash Plan in addition to what Medicare will do for them?

Even though Medicare is a great boon to folks over 65, it will not, of course, pay all the bills that quickly pile up as a result of illness or accident.

Regardless of your age, you still need additional health protection.

We have designed this plan as the important addition to what you receive from Medicare – or any other health insurance you may have. Remember, all checks will be sent directly to you (not to the doctor or hospital), to give you that "extra" help just when you need it most. Use the tax-free cash any way you see fit. And you will be glad to know the checks will be big ones! In addition to what you receive from Medicare, Presidential pays you $70.00 a week... EVEN FOR 100 WEEKS if necessary! You can receive as much as $7,000.00 for each illness or injury when hospitalized!

... Pays you $100.00 a week CASH for a registered nurse at home.

Yes, in addition to the $100.00 weekly checks we send you during your hospital stay, we pay you an extra $100.00 a week if the doctor says you need a full-time registered nurse to take care of you at home.

How comforting it is to know that – after your stay in the hospital, if you've been there three days or more, you can return home to recuperate and yet not be a burden to your loved ones. Yes, if your doctor says you need a registered nurse full time within 5 days after you come home, we'll send you checks for $100.00 a week – for as long as you need the nurse – even up to 50 weeks. It's like having a reserve of $5,000.00 cash to draw on when you need it. These benefits also increase each year by $3.00 a week. Another exceptional feature you have with Presidential...

... Pays you $100.00 a week cash maternity benefits

Ordinary hospital insurance may take care of part of your expenses when you go to the hospital to have a baby. But what policy can you think of that gives you cash to buy all the things you need for the new baby? Now, if both husband and wife are insured in the wonderful Family Plan With Maternity for the entire period of the pregnancy, you get extra cash to use any way you want. If a pregnancy, childbirth or even miscarriage puts you in the hospital for one day, five days, 10 days – as long as necessary – you get $100.00 a week for every day of your confinement, up to 100 weeks.

All these added cash benefits.

Yes, in addition to $100.00 a week for hospitalization or $100.00 a week maternity benefits and $100.00 a week for a registered nurse at home... you get all this:

Added cash benefits: $1,000.00 cash to your family if death occurs within 90 days from any accidental injury. Think of how handy the cash can be in time of loss. It can take care of burial expenses without burdening your loved ones.

Added cash benefit: Up to $2,000.00 cash for accidental loss of limbs or eyesight, when the loss occurs anytime within 90 days of the accident. The loss of a limb or eyesight is a terrible thing. Nothing can replace the loss, but a check for $1,000.00 or $2,000.00 will bring greater peace of mind during the period of adjustment.

Added cash benefit: Choose either Family Plan... and your children will be covered too! Presidential pays up to $5,000.00 any time your youngster goes to the hospital... for tonsils, appendicitis, or any other illness or injury! Yes, you will receive $50.00 cash, week after week – for as many as 100 weeks, if necessary.

We pay your premiums when you are not able

As a special consideration to you – if you are hospitalized just 6 weeks or more, all premiums that come due while you are still in the hospital after this period will be paid by Presidential. And your protection continues as if you were paying the premiums yourself! Then if you leave the hospital and must return for the same condition before you have resumed full normal activities for 90 days, Presidential will again PAY ANY PREMIUMS WHILE YOU ARE IN THE HOSPITAL – TO A MAXIMUM OF 100 WEEKS per confinement! This means you pay no premiums, yet your full protection remains in force – you collect up to $10,000.00 for each confinement!

THIS LIMITED ENROLLMENT OFFER ENDS SOON
Amazing Low Rates – Money-Back Guarantee

You can now have your first month's protection at the special low rates listed below! But you must act immediately. Your request for this wonderful Income Protection Plan must be mailed on the convenient form below NOT LATER THAN MIDNIGHT of the date in the Enrollment Form.

This midnight expiration hour cannot be extended. If your enrollment form is mailed later, it cannot be accepted.

These are the ONLY exclusions!

Your Presidential policy covers every conceivable kind of sickness or accident except conditions caused by war or any act of war; mental disorders; intoxicants and narcotics; pregnancy except as provided under the maternity benefit provision; and expenses resulting from any sickness or injury you had before the Effective Date of your policy... during the first 2 years only.

This last item is a real help if you already have a health problem. If you are sick before you take out this policy, you will still be covered for that condition after the policy has been in effect for 2 years. Of course, meanwhile every new condition is immediately covered.

How can these bargain low rates buy so much?

You can buy ordinary insurance at any time and pay the regular rates, if you wish. But Presidential can now provide you and your entire family with $100.00 a week tax-free Income Protection at special low rates only because we enroll a large number of people at one time – direct by mail! This highly efficient "Mass Enrollment" method cuts costs to the bone – and the savings are passed on to you!

Make your decision carefully

Think how costly a hospital confinement will be. Imagine paying for those indispensable x-rays, doctor bills, medicines and drugs that are not covered by your present insurance.

Would you be able to afford the quiet and privacy of a private room and a private nurse, should you so desire? Or a telephone to keep in touch with loved ones? Or the rental of a TV set to help pass the lonely hours? Who would pay your bills that keep on coming in at home? Many folks have lost their life savings, their cars, even their homes trying to meet such expenses. And no one knows whose turn it will be next.

Why you must act before the deadline date shown in the enrollment form – just a few days from today

Why must you act before the deadline? Because, as mentioned above, we must receive your Enrollment Form the same time as all the others in order to pass on to you the savings that come from processing many policies at one time.

We mail you the policy as soon as we receive the Enrollment Form. When the policy arrives, examine it in the privacy of your own home. Take all the time you need. It's a very short document, and you'll be pleasantly surprised to discover there is NO FINE PRINT. Then – show it, if you wish, to someone you trust. Perhaps your lawyer, accountant, or banker. Better still – show it to your own insurance man... even though he may very well be working for another insurance company! If he is a personal friend, he has your best interests in mind. So you can believe him when he tells you there is no better bargain available anywhere – at any price!

Money back guarantee—in case you change your mind

Even after you mail your Enrollment Form below... even after you examine the policy in your own home and talk it over with anyone you wish... even after all this you are still free to return the policy within 15 days and every penny you paid will be refunded at once. There will be no obligation whatever.

Meanwhile, all during the 15 days you are making up your mind—you'll be protected by $100.00-A-WEEK extra cash benefits just as if you had already said "yes." That's right, you will be fully covered all this time for any accident which puts you in the hospital, even if you finally decide to return the policy.

However, after you've seen the policy for yourself, you will surely agree that this is a tremendous value and you'll want to continue this $100.00-A-WEEK extra cash protection under the Plan that's best for you.

PLAN I – INDIVIDUAL(S) ONLY PLAN:

If you want to cover yourself – or yourself and one or more adult dependents (including your spouse) – then this is the Plan for you. Each person must be 18 or over, and shall pay (per person) the rate applicable to his or her age.

THESE ARE YOUR LOW RATES
Enclose first month's premium according to age and plan selected.

40-49	only $4.95
50-59	only $5.95
60-74	only $6.95
75 and over	only $8.95

PLAN II – FAMILY PLAN WITH MATERNITY

This plan is for the family that is still growing. To the total of the monthly premium for the adults to be insured, just add $5. This entitles you to all maternity benefits. It also covers all your unmarried, dependent children between the ages of 3 months and under 19 years who live at home. Future dependent children will be covered when they reach 3 months of age and without any additional charge.

PLAN III – FAMILY PLAN WITHOUT MATERNITY

This plan is for the family that is no longer growing. To the total of the monthly premium for the adults to be insured, just add $3. This covers all your unmarried, dependent children between the ages of 3 months and under 19 years who live at home.

NOTE: The regular Monthly Premium shown here (for your age at time of enrollment) is the same low premium you will continue to pay; it will not automatically increase as you pass from one age bracket to the next. Once you have enrolled, your rate can never be changed because of how much or how often you collect from us – or because of advanced age – but only if there is a general rate adjustment, up or down, on all policies of this type in your entire state.

Act now—"later" may be too late!

TIME IS PRECIOUS! Act quickly! (No salesman will call.) Get your enrollment form into the mail today with your first month's premium according to the plan you choose. Remember, once you suffer an accident or sickness, it's TOO LATE to buy protection at any cost. That's why we urge you to act today – before anything unexpected happens.

THESE 22 QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Tell you how Presidential's COST OF LIVING INCOME REPLACEMENT HEALTH AND ACCIDENT PLAN gives you the protection you need – at amazingly low cost!

1. How much will my policy pay me when I go to the hospital?
The full amount! You are paid $100.00-A-WEEK cash every single week. And it starts the very first day you are in the hospital. (If you are over 65, you are paid $70.00 a week, in addition to any Medicare benefits you receive.)
2. Will I be paid if I am hospitalized for less than a full week?
You certainly will... regardless of whether you are in the hospital for as short a time as one day... or as long a time as a week, month, year or more.
3. Does this Plan pay me from the first day of hospitalization?
Yes! You receive full cash benefits of $100.00 a week starting the very first day you enter the hospital. The coverage begins when we receive your first premium – that is the day you are covered for any accidents. Sickness coverage begins 30 days after the effective date of the policy.
4. How much do I receive for a Registered Nurse at Home?
$100.00-A-WEEK for up to $5,000.00 after you have been hospitalized for 3 days or more, and your doctor has you employ a full-time registered nurse within 5 days after you leave the hospital. Ten years from now it will have increased to $130.00 a week in benefits... at no extra cost to you!
5. Are there any accidental death benefits?
Yes. $1,000.00 cash is paid to your estate when death occurs any time within 90 days of an accident.
6. Will I be paid extra if I lose a limb or eyesight?
Yes. Presidential pays $1,000.00 for complete accidental loss of one hand or one foot or sight of one eye; $2,000.00 for loss of both hands or both feet or sight of both eyes... when dismemberment occurs anytime within 90 days of the accident.
7. How much do we receive for pregnancies?
If you have the Family Plan With Maternity, you receive $100.00-A-WEEK for each pregnancy, childbirth or miscarriage that results in hospital confinement when both husband and wife are enrolled under this plan for the entire period of pregnancy.
8. Suppose I am paid benefits for any sickness or accident. What happens if I am again hospitalized for the same condition?
Don't worry. You still collect $100.00-A-WEEK for a total of 100 weeks. And if you have already resumed full normal activities for just 90 days, it's considered a new confinement, and you can collect for an additional 100 weeks. Of course, any new condition is covered immediately for a full 100 weeks.
9. How may I use these benefit payments?
You may use them in any way you wish – for hospital and doctor bills, rent, food, household expenses, or anything else. This is entirely up to you.
10. May I apply if I am over 65?
Yes, you may. Folks any age are welcome to apply—there is no age limit! Members over 65 are paid $70.00 a week plus all Medicare benefits.
11. Can I collect from Presidential even if I carry other insurance?
Of course. This plan will pay you in addition to whatever you may receive from any other policies, including Medicare for folks over 65.
12. Why do I need this Presidential Plan in addition to my other hospital and health insurance?
While hospital costs have tripled in recent years, very few people have tripled their insurance. The chances are one in seven that you will need money to take care of all your other expenses, as well as your hospital bills. Your Presidential checks are rushed to you by air mail to use as you see fit.
13. What benefits do my eligible, dependent children get?
If you choose a Family Type Plan, your dependent eligible children, ages 3 months to under 19 years, would receive 50% of all the cash benefits of the Plan (excluding Waiver of Premium).
14. May I add future dependent children to my policy after it is in force?
Yes, indeed, if you have the FAMILY PLAN WITH MATERNITY. Just notify us when they are 3 months old and they will be covered without evidence of insurability and without any additional charge.
15. Will my protection be cancelled because I have too many claims?
No, definitely not! Presidential guarantees never to cancel your protection because you have too many claims or because of advanced age. We also guarantee never to refuse to renew your policy unless the premium is not paid before the end of the 31-day grace period, or unless renewal is declined on all policies of this type in your entire state. (Of course, if deception is used in making application, the policy may be ineffective.)
16. Will my rates be raised as I grow older or if I have too many claims?
No matter how many claims you have, or regardless of how long you keep your policy, your rate will remain the same as it was for your age when you applied. Presidential guarantees never to adjust this rate unless the rates are adjusted on all policies of this type in your entire state.
17. What is not covered by this policy?
The only conditions not covered are those caused by: mental disorders; intoxicants and narcotics; expenses resulting from any sickness or injury you had before the policy Effective Date (during the first 2 years only); act of war. EVERYTHING ELSE IS COVERED—including pregnancy when both husband and wife have been enrolled in the FAMILY PLAN WITH MATERNITY for the entire period of pregnancy.
18. What are the requirements for membership in one of the Presidential Plans?
You must not have been refused any health, hospital or life insurance; and, to qualify during this enrollment period, you must enroll before midnight of the date in the coupon.
19. Why is this offer good for a limited time only?
Because, by enrolling a large number of people at the same time, underwriting, processing and policy issuance costs can be kept at a minimum—and we can pass these savings on to you.
20. Besides the savings, are there other advantages to joining Presidential during this enrollment period?
Yes, there certainly are. A very important one is that you do not need to complete a regular application – just your brief form in the lower left hand corner of this page. Also, during this enrollment period there are no other requirements for eligibility – and no "waivers" or restrictive endorsements can be put on your policy!
21. Can other members of my family take advantage of this special offer?
Yes, as long as they can meet the few requirements listed under Question 18.
22. How do I get the policy for examination with money-back guarantee?
Just fill out your brief enrollment form and mail it with your first month's premium to The Presidential Life Insurance Company of America, 11401 Roosevelt Blvd., Philadelphia, Pa. 19154.

The Hula Is A 'Low-Down' Dance

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Women who come to the Tahitian and Hawaiian hula classes being taught for the Mill Valley recreation department this summer get quite a surprise, says their teacher, Mrs. Dionne Chamberlain of Mill Valley.

"At first they think all you have to do is wiggle and wave your hands," Dionne says, "but they discover that it involves learning what muscles to move when and how fast, and these are entirely different from ones used generally in such sports as swimming and tennis."

Nevertheless it's proving a lot of fun for the 15 women who are taking the classes on Wednesday from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. at the Mill Valley Youth and Community Center. There is also a class for children Wednesdays held at the Center from 1 to 2 p.m.

"One of the difficulties the women have to overcome," Dionne says, "is going contrary to anything they have learned about dancing on the balls of the feet or on the toes as in ballet.

The hula is literally a low down dance with bent knees and feet flat on the floor. There's no body motion from the waist up.

"IT'S NOT PARTICULARLY good for reducing, as they think at first, though it does have a tendency to firm you and decrease inches, but it sure beats calisthenics. It's very therapeutic too because it's expressive and gets you out of yourself," says the instructor.

Dionne started learning to do the Tahitian hula during the seven years she lived aboard various boats in the South Pacific.

After attending Stephens College in Missouri and the University of North Carolina, she met her husband while she was living on her stepfather's boat, the "Evening Star," at Morehead City, N.C. He was a civil engineer from England who had always wanted to go around the world on a small boat.

Their opportunity came when he had the chance to become the captain of the "Gloria Maris," a 100-foot schooner which left Newport Beach harbor in the spring of 1955 on a scientific voyage. Its purpose was to collect sea shells for the Philadelphia Academy of Sciences.

"We collected three tons of shells in the waters near Western New Guinea, the Caroline Islands, Bikini Atolls, Guam, the Marshalls and Mariannas and Okinawa," Dionne said.

"We had a terrifying experience near Guam when we ran into a typhoon and lost the mainmast. The sea was washing right over the boat, which was riding sometimes as much as at a 90 degree angle in the blinding rain. All the crew could do was lash down the wheel and lock us all below."

They were forced to go to Okinawa a month for repairs and then on to Kobe, Japan, for three months to have a new mainmast made, before concluding their 18-month voyage and returning to Newport Beach in September, 1956.

The Chamberlains' first son, Ian, was eight weeks old at the start of this voyage and learned to walk while touring half the world.

IN JULY, 1958, the Chamberlains set off on another major voyage on the 109-foot racing schooner "Ramona," which was well known in Marin County when it was owned by the globe-circling William Pomeroys of Sausalito.

At this time the boat was owned by Bob Insinger of San Diego. Ernest Chamberlain signed on as mate, and Dionne did the cooking on the year's cruise. Aboard were the Insingers and their three children and the Chamberlains with their two sons, a second named Austin having been born just before that voyage.

"We stopped at many islands in the South Seas," Dionne said, "and spent the longest time — three months — at Tahiti, and it was during this time that I started learning the hula because I was so enchanted with the music. This is the kind of music that really turns me on.

"I SPENT A LOT of time watching the Bora Bora girls practicing every night for the Bastille Day celebration and picked up many of the basic movements by myself. Then when we came back to Newport Beach I found a Tahitian woman living there and took lessons from her.

"We got a little group together, and before long we were being invited to perform at luaus and private parties. Eventually we were good enough so that we were paid, but for me it was really a lark, and now it's just my hobby."

Clergyman's Wife Says Girls Who Marry Ministers Must Be Dedicated

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Commitment. This one word sums up the prime requirement for the woman who marries a minister.

Commitment to God, to difficult assignment, says one woman married to a clergyman for 35 years, but if you don't have commitment "you might as well go marry a broker."

The words are those of Alice Taylor, wife of the Rt. Rev. George A. Taylor, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Easton, Md. Mrs. Taylor is author of a wise and witty guide to women who marry the clergy. It also should help the congregation, the others in the community in understanding that a minister's wife is human too.

A MINISTER'S wife must "set an example for the congregation," Mrs. Taylor says. "So much is expected of her — the health of an Amazon and the dedication of a Florence Nightingale, the patience of Job and the zeal of a Carrie Nation, the peace-loving thoughts of a Gandhi and the fighting spirit of a warrior, the charm of a debutant and the intelligence of a Phi Beta Kappa. . ."

A minister's wife lives in a goldfish bowl, Mrs. Taylor adds, "well aware that it is her sole responsibility to see that the goldfish behave.

"THE CONGREGATION expects a lot of the minister's wife, whether they admit it or not. If she's too pretty, she's trying to act like a model. If she's dowdy, they don't invite her places.

"She's expected to lead, but if she takes on too much, it deprives others, so she has to encourage leadership elsewhere.

"She has to have the skin of an elephant, because people will hurt her sometimes. And they'll hurt her husband, which multiplies hers."

Mrs. Taylor writes candidly of the role of a clergyman's wife in "How to Be a Minister's Wife and Love It" (Zondervan Publishing House, Grand Rapids, Mich.). And she expressed many of the above thoughts in a telephone interview from her home in Easton, on Maryland's eastern shore. Her husband's diocese embraces "30 clergymen—28 wives and two bachelors," she said.

THE BOOK is her first. "I wrote it from compulsion," said Mrs. Taylor. "In recent years, I've had some time to think . . . and to think of all those ministers' wives who don't know what they're getting into.

"I've seen clergymen ruined when a wife didn't undertake her role with commitment, patience.

"I know one wife hasn't been in church in four years. Now you know what his congregation says, 'If he can't sell her on religion, how can he sell us?'"

Mrs. Taylor was born in Albany, N.Y., and met her husband when he was assigned to the ministry at St. Paul's Church there. He served as rector at St. David's Church in Baltimore and at St. Paul's, outside Chestertown, Md., before being elected bishop of the Easton Diocese in 1965. The couple has two sons and two grandchildren.

MRS. TAYLOR said as a minister's wife she feels her role is one of silence on controversial national or international issues—"I speak for my church" and there are so many differing views in any congregation.

But she speaks out strongly against those who use the term "just a housewife," and against the rash of books and women's magazines that are saying, "Women, don't be stuffy housewives, doing our round of boring and unrewarding tasks . . . you are too intelligent to waste your time on such trivia . . . rise up, and free yourself from this bondage."

Says Mrs. Taylor, "Too many people look down on the woman who spends her life in the kitchen . . . I feel there is nothing like a home with a mother in it. Our society is collapsing because of lack of family life."

'Fixing Things' Husband Has Eyes For The Ladies, Says Wife

DEAR HELEN:

My husband fixes things. Like electric mixers, washing machines, stoves. He also has an eye for the ladies.

The other night I found an initial and phone number in his wallet. I called the number and a very sexy voice answered. I asked if she had something out of order, and she said everything she had was in perfect shape — Goodbye.

I told my husband and he said she just misunderstood. She had met him on the street and told him her washing machine knocked, so he took her phone number to call before going to fix it.

Should I accept his statement? Or keep my eyes open?

—DOUBTFUL

DEAR DOUBTFUL:

Both. Accept his statement — and — keep your eyes open.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

Is there any way we can get a law passed to make people who let their animals roam have them neutered? I help out at the animal shelter. Sometimes three or four hundred cats are brought in during a week. They range all the way from baby kittens to very pregnant females, and we can't find homes for most of them, so they must be destroyed. How much better it would be if people who didn't want to raise animals saw to it their animals wouldn't add to the overpopulation.

The excuse is usually that having a pet "fixed" costs too much.

What can be done?

—ANIMAL LOVER

DEAR A.L.:

I understand that several cities have helped solve the problem with an animal birth control clinic where pets are neutered either free of charge or for a minimum fee. Officials figure cost of the clinics is offset by reduced cost of operating pounds. Why don't you suggest it to your City Council? — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Last year I started going with this man and thought he was very nice. We didn't go out often, but stayed home and enjoyed each other's company.

One day he asked to borrow a few dollars. I gave them to him, and it got to be a habit every week. He never offered to pay back. I also have been doing his washing, ironing and cleaning and I even cut his hair.

Last week I got the shock of my life. He announced he was going to marry the girl he'd been dating ever since high school.

He still comes to see me just as if nothing has changed. The wedding won't be until next year.

He has never said he loved me, but he acts like it a lot. Do you think there's any hope?

—DOPE

DEAR DOPE:

Nope!

. . . Not unless you toss this guy out, bag and laundry and find someone who doesn't play you for a made-maid. —H.

Sorority Chapter Elects Mrs. Cazneaux As President

Kappa Phi Sigma sorority has a new chapter in Marin County and with it came a new slate of officers. Serving as president of the newly formed Alpha Lambda chapter will be Mrs. Stanley Cazneaux of Novato, a former program chairman, fashion show chairman and vice president of the sorority. She has been a member the past three years.

Gloria relates the purposes and activities of the sorority to include social, service and cultural endeavors. A fashion show is sponsored by the group each fall to raise funds for their project, aiding handicapped and mentally retarded children.

The new president, whose husband is an engineer for the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company in San Francisco, is the mother of three children. They are Cheryl, 12; David, 8, and Richard, 10 months. Gloria is active in other organizations that reflect her interests, the Winifred Baker Chorale, Novato Community Club, Parent-Teacher Association, and is an associate member of the Jolly Rogers Chapter of the Children's Home Society.

In college, Gloria majored in music and education. With her talent she has contributed to solo work for churches and concerts, fashion shows, and charity functions. Her major achievement, and one she regards as most enjoyable, was in working and singing with the San Francisco Opera Company.

Other interests for the new prexy are swimming, bowling, gardening, and interior decorating.

Assisting Gloria with the chapter this year will be Mesdames Andrew Snyder, vice president; Gordon Tremoureux, secretary; John Bassett, treasurer, and John Colistra, extension officer. Other members of the new chapter are Mesdames Arthur Bayles, Alan King, John Osborn, Colin White, Carl Windh and John Wright.

ALPHA TAU chapter is the first group that was organized for Kappa Phi Sigma sorority in Marin County. Officers to lead activities within their group this year are:

Mesdames Leo Horton, president; Earl Aurelius, vice president; Stephen Halbe, secretary; Robert Corbett, treasurer, and David Douglass, extension officer.

Art Fair Begins This Week In Mendocino

By MOLLY MARIN

Artistic interests are taking many Marinites north to Mendocino these days for the summer studies program at the Mendocino Art Center, and most will be on hand for the 10th annual Art Fair at the center Aug. 2, 3 and 4.

Enrolled in the pottery class conducted by Sasha Makovkin, formerly of Mill Valley, are Mesdames Lisa Appenzeller of San Rafael, Jan Diamond of Ross, Lori Fine of Larkspur and Roxanne Ferris of Bolinas. The Ray Rices of Greenbrae are instructing classes, Ray with watercolor and Miriam teaching arts and crafts to youngsters. Their daughter, Felicia, is studying pottery.

The landscape perception course is taken by Mrs. P. K. Gilman of Larkspur, and the Charles Appells of Greenbrae have been studying photography and batik.

Annette Lareau of Fairfax is taking a six-week course in film making and will return to Marin after the Art Fair. Mrs. Richard Dillon of Mill Valley and her sons, David and Brian, are back in Marin after completing courses in pottery, sculpture and photography.

Others planning to attend the Art Fair next weekend are the Robert Hermans of San Anselmo with their son, John.

BRIDE-ELECT Peggy Anne Mirata entertained her attendants at a luncheon Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Angelo P. Mirata of Tiburon. Peggy Anne has an altar date with Peter James Bohan Jr., also of Tiburon, at St. Hilary's Church on Aug. 18.

FOLLOWING THE christening of Michael Jefferson Ely, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Anthony Ely of Orinda, a lunch party was given by his grandmother Mrs. Walter Beatie Jr. in the garden of her home in Ross. Mr. and Mrs. Ikele Jefferson Ely of San Anselmo are the baby's paternal grandparents. Godparents for the child are Mrs. Bruce Lauritzen, Dwight L. Ely and Michael L. Beati. The christening was held at Christ Episcopal Church in Sausalito, with Bruce Lauritzen as proxy godparent for Michael, who is on the Transatlantic race to Germany.

DRESSMAKERS SAY:

Smaller Sizes, Larger Women Today

NEW YORK (UPI)—That size 10 dress, like the woman who wears it, is no longer what it used to be—it's bigger.

Dresmakers, working on the theory that flattery goes a long way with a woman, are sticking smaller size labels on larger dresses, reports the Health Insurance Institute.

The proof is in last year's patterns. While ready-to-wear sizes went down, pattern sizes remained the same for many years, and a woman who thought she wore a size 10 dress usually found she had to buy a size 12 pattern. Now pattern sizes are following ready-to-wear's small sizes.

As sizes shrank, however, women continued to grow. Today's American woman is bigger and bustier than any generation before her.

Average Miss or Mrs. America 1968 is five feet four and a half inches tall, weighs 126 pounds and measures 35¼-26-36½. Compare that with her turn-of-the-century counterpart, a five-foot-two, 114-pound shortie, with measurements of 33½-24-36.

Modern women eat better all their lives than their grandmothers did, and they take better care of their figures. But as dress manufacturers worked at standardizing sizes for the new woman, they worked toward making those sizes smaller too. As a result, while every day in every way women grow bigger and bigger, dress sizes become smaller.

America Hails The 'Hot Dog'

It took many things to make America great, but high on the list must be the hot dog.

"The hot dog certainly is the noblest dog of all," a quipster once wrote, "because it feeds the hand that bites it."

According to the National Live Stock and Meat Board, 18 million youngsters in the National School Lunch program ate 380,500,000 dogs in 1967.

It is estimated that an equal number of hot dogs are grilled at picnics, cook-outs and cook-ins.

You usually think of the hot dog reclining in a bun, but the versatility and flexibility of the dog knows no limitations, turning up in casseroles, soups, salads, pizzas and hors d'oeuvres.

MUSIC REVIEWS

Contemporary, Baroque Operas Well Received At Inverness Fete

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

A contemporary opera and a baroque English opera in concert versions were the climax yesterday afternoon and evening of a successful fourth Annual Inverness Music Festival under the capable direction of Fae McNally.

Some 200 people attended the afternoon performance of "Lost In The Stars" in the outdoor amphitheater adjacent to St. Columba's Church, and nearly the capacity of 150, the evening performance of Purcell's "Dido and Aeneas" in the church.

"Lost in the Stars" was of special interest because of its timely theme centered around race relations in South Africa and its message applicable to today's crucial racial tensions the world over.

In this creditable concert adaptation by native Marinite Sam Schaffer of the opera with music by Kurt Weill and words by Maxwell Anderson, outstanding musically were the commentary by tenor Melvyn Poll and the portrayal by bass Eugene Jones of the Negro minister Stephen Kumalo, whose son murdered a white land baron's sons. He can act with his voice.

Also of high caliber was McNally's directing from the piano with evident deep involvement in the Weill music and dramatic subject matter.

Susie Battle as Irina, the girl friend of the murderer Absalom Kumalo, had a nice natural voice but lacked training and experience. The rest of the roles were spoken, and of these most effective was that of the land baron read by Kenneth McClellan. Dickson Lee was good as the narrator who read several parts. Absalom was read by George Lucy, and a small boy by young Earl Battle.

The festival chorus was not up to its evening performance level.

More rehearsals, which are probably very difficult to arrange within the limitations of such a mixed amateur and professional venture, would have been needed to give the production its full potential impact, but McNally is to be commended for his undertaking of something with both current social significance and musical worth.

The evening presentation of Purcell's "Dido and Aeneas" had many musical virtues. These included some very good solo singing, good work on the part of the chorus under the dynamic direction of Darrell Parker and splendid accompaniment by a chamber group. This was composed of the Marin arts quartet — violinists Charles Meacham and Michael Gerling, violist Lucien Mitchell and cellist Jean Mitchell — augmented by Carl Modell, bass, and Nancy Bennett, harpsichord.

As in the afternoon performance, Melvyn Poll was outstanding, this time in the lead as Aeneas. Equally good were two singers we have heard several times, lyric soprano Joan Smith as Belinda and alto Margaret Lee as the sorceress.

New to us was soprano Lynn Mitchell, a student, whose voice had the power and body suited to queen Dido. With more training she should fulfill considerable promise.

The small part of "a woman" by Catharine Collette revealed a lovely vocal quality and expert training that made one wish she could have been heard to better advantage. Two young girls, Linda Everson and Carolyn Parker, were very much in the spirit of their parts as two witches.

On the whole the Inverness Music Festival seems to be making fine progress.

Mark Salkind Performs Beautifully, As Usual

Marin's 15-year-old musical prodigy, Mark Salkind, was one of two young soloists Saturday night in the final concert of the San Francisco Symphony Pops Orchestra's summer series under Arthur Fiedler.

He and San Leandro pianist Madeline Bruser, about 20, were the last of a group of young Bay Area artists who have been given their chance to perform for a very large audience. Like many of the others this season in the San Francisco Civic Auditorium, it numbered around 5,000.

HANDEL CONCERTO

Even if he were not the master of this type of concert, this policy alone of promoting talented youth would make Fiedler a favorite with us.

Playing Handel's Oboe Concerto No. 3 in G Minor, Mark, as always, performed beautifully, perhaps with more than usual poise and control of his tendency to reflect expressive nuances in body motion.

While his technical and musical capacities were evident, the concerto did not give him the opportunity to show what he can really do. It was fairly short and a wise choice for this occasion, however, since the oboe sound is rather light and not shown to best advantage in a large hall unless acoustics are perfect.

STRENGTH, CONTROL

In Ravel's difficult piano Concerto in G Major Miss Bruser was magnificent both in her technical virtuosity in the toccata-like first and third movements and in the lyrical second one enhanced by some lovely English horn and harp passages. In the last movement particulary her strength and control in glittering flights and cascades of notes and trills were a marvel.

The orchestra too was brilliant in this work which shows Ravel's mastery of orchestration which included the surprise and bizarre use of a buggy whip crack. It is a great showpiece for pops concerts and reminiscent of Gershwin. It was a good contrast with the preceding ethereal "Pavane for a Dead Princess," also by Ravel.

Immediately preceding that was an exciting reading of Rimsky-Korsakoff's "Russian Easter" overture with some outstanding work by solo flute, trombone and french horns.

LOW KEY

The concert opened on a low key with all strings and woodwinds in the overture to Boieldieu's "The Caliph of Bagdad," and closed with the enormously popular group consisting of a "Berlin Bouquet," a medley of Irving Berlin's tunes commemorating his 80th birthday; "The Impossible Dream" from Leigh's "The Man From La Mancha" and Sousa's "The Stars and Stripes Forever."

Altogether it seems to have been an unusually sucessful 18th annual season for the orchestra and Fiedler both in quality of performance and attendance. MPS.

Stereo Change; Car Hits Pole

Two Petaluma men were treated for injuries at Petaluma General Hospital yesterday after their car hit a power pole on the Marshall-Petaluma Road near Chileno Valley Road.

The driver, Frank J. Oliviera, 20, of Petaluma, declined medical treatment for a cut forehead. James J. Hall, 26, was treated for a cut scalp and Stephen Shelton, 18, was treated for bruises on the cheek and right leg.

The California Highway Patrol said the accident occurred at 2:30 a.m. when the car drifted off the pavement as Oliviera changed tapes in his stereo tape player.

YMCA Summer Camp Registration Open

Registrations are being taken for Marin County boys 9 to 13 to attend the Young Men's Christian Association camp near La Honda in the Santa Cruz Mountains.

The camp begins Aug. 4 under the direction of Martin Hanzlik, executive director of the Marin YMCA. Information and registration details are available from the YMCA office, 241 San Pedro Road, San Rafael.

'Macbeth' Fails To Reach The Heart, Stir The Blood

By GWEN STONE

I cannot "applaud thee to the very echo' because with 'the frame of things disjoint, both worlds suffer." Both quotes stem from "Macbeth," presented by the Marin Shakespeare Festival Company at the Forest Meadows Theatre Saturday. With the addition of a few words it expresses exactly what was wrong with the opening night's performance.

"Macbeth" lacked structure and proportion. Only once or twice were we allowed to draw the curtain and see a character come alive, feel the heart-anguish through grief and agony at the march of murderous events.

The performance somehow missed the magical joining of the real and the unreal worlds. I never felt I was witnessing the tragedy of Macbeth and his Lady, but a performance of actors strutting and stumping across the wide stage with superficial clamoring. And often they came perilously close in word and gesture to the abyss of the absurd. The production gave us a heavily measured reading of the play.

Perhaps my disappointment seemed deeper because I had seen Gail Chugg (Macbeth) in Ashland several years ago do three completely different roles with equal finesse and confidence. Saturday night I saw a totally unsure actor being weighted down by the 'greatness' of it all. From his first booming declamation to his last stumble I was left unmoved. All things conspired to make Macbeth a misfit in this production. His body mannerisms, his first appearance complete with Wagnerian helmet which they mercilessly gave him to wear again near the end of the play. His crown literally weighed much too heavy on his head. It could have been a slender band with points, giving the same regal quality, for Mr. Chugg is not an overly big man. The proportion of drapes and crown seemed all wrong.

Macbeth is one of the most difficult roles to bring across. The play set in the primitive world of Celtic Britain shows Macbeth starting out as a victorious soldier reduced at the play's end to a toy puppet. The hero shrinks so fast he must get in all his 'licks' in the first part of the play. The excitement wanes along with the mental and psychological process of the play. Even Macbeth's death scene Shakespeare took from him, so that he can't redeem himself in kingly stature. Then too, Russell Ernst, the play's director, who managed to keep the action moving, missed in not correcting Chugg's 90 degree angle-stance. I kept expecting him to topple over every second he was on stage.

The banquest scene was Patricia Rice's best scene. As Lady Macbeth, she became so concerned with the other characters in the play she forgot her own person enough to be effective and involved. Miss Rice, whom I have seen perform before with beautiful intensity and a real womanly quality, dissipated her femininity by substituting a mannered Shakespearean woman of the old school. Where was the 'undaunted mettle' of Lady Macbeth? Where was her frailty? It would have made the sleep walking scene so much more tragic and convincing.

Too often I found myself cut loose from the major characters and centered my attention on actors such as Barry Kraft, who gave Macduff a sensitive and warm interpretation. Stephen Zendt (Lennox) was nicely played. Joseph Carrillo's Banquo was convincing as was Charles Moll's Second Murderer and Third Apparition in the witches' scene. John Talt turned in competent doublings of roles.

The witches' cooking lesson rivaled Julia Childs except for the unsavory ingredients. In all fairness, they were all right, but hardly what I'd call chillingly weird. No gooseflesh apparitions here.

Presumably Hecate, the Elsa Maxwell of the witches' set, is left out of the modern versions of Macbeth. But in recalling her lines one wonders if she should have been included in the play Saturday night. She might have helped it along, at least in spirit. To the three sisters she says: "How did you dare to trade and traffic with Macbeth/In riddles, and affairs of death/And I mistress of your charms, the close contriver of all harms/Was never call'd to bear my part/Or show the glory of our art?"

Perhaps in a week or so the play will gain by the playing, I certainly hope so, for the hard work and concentrated effort that goes into these productions of the Marin Shakespeare Festival deserves more than a mere ho hum.

The costumes designed by Sandra Finney, except for the Wotan helmet, were beautifully conceived.

The setting in the open-air amphitheater is magnificent and truly the 26-acre virgin forest surrounding the theatre area does remove one from the distractions of the 20th century.

"Comedy of Errors, the third in the series of Shakespeare plays for this season opens Friday at 8:30 p.m.

Slur To Bardot Ends In Brawl

SAINT TROPEZ, France (AP) — The Woom Woom night club was the scene of some scuffling Saturday night when a male friend of actress Brigitte Bardot objected to what he deemed uncomplimentary remarks about her.

The friend, Italian shipowner Luigi Rizzi, had words with several persons at the bar. Words led to blows. Rizzi was outnumbered, but actor Alain Delon and pop singer Johnny Halliday stepped in to help him out. Finally the fighting subsided.

Miss Bardot had arrived earlier in her white Rolls Royce.

DRAMA REVIEW

'It Can't Happen' Is A Hefty Revue

By GARY TISCHLER

Like some horrifying practical joke, the College of Marin Department of Drama's "It Can't Happen Here, But It is!", parodied it's title in uncomfortable fashion Saturday.

Not too many productions have their sound system blown off into silence on them, but it happened at College of Marin Saturday, injecting some queasy moments into an otherwise refreshing run of youthful spirit and versatility.

The electrical misfortune, which happened early in the production during the middle of a skit, erased a series of tapes, background music and slide projections. As such, the highly volatile group floated along almost strictly on its talent, which was considerable.

Considering Saturday's handicaps, enough cannot be said for this group of youngsters under the direction of H. H. Susser. We have watched them grow for the past two years now, and this year's show was by far the best and most thoughtful.

"It Can't Happen", a hefty revue of a total of 53 skits, songs, blackouts and pantomimes, consists of material done entirely by the cast. Not all of it is successful — some of the bits fall flat, some are simply not funny and some of them try too hard, possibly on sheer weight of numbers. It is a scattergun approach that doesn't always hit target.

This year's production was aided by the presence of newcomer (to Marin) Bobby Sandler, who, with the solemn-faced Mike Knight, wrote a fat share of the material. He combined with Knight in two of the best numbers. The first was "The Door", a funny-serious skit concerning alienation and dropping out. It's about a recluse who lives in a door in Central Park, and the questing intrusion of a fitful member of the establishment.

Knight, who was in the last two productions, plays a coiled method actor with Sandler as an introductory straight man in their second number.

There are other fine things in this production — the multi-colored sets of Alonso D. Gonzalez, the singing of Rosalind Corral and Robbie McBeath, the understated clowning of Alex and Ted Herrman, a very funny bit by John Bamberger as a reader, the stern angry face of Judy Navas, who incidentally, wrote several of the numbers and a very aware piece of poetry "On Sitting In The President's Office Against The Door".

Three other individual bits impressed me — Richard Stark's burlesque of Dylan Thomas, Rebecca Russell's reading of W. B. Yeat's "The Second Coming" and a touching pantomime by Don Rosenberg and the wonderful Kathleen Quirin in "Two Brooms," about lovelorn janitors.

This production started coming to gether immediately after the assassination of Robert Kennedy and it shows. Somewhere in the middle of the second half, the show turns openly serious, beginning with a chilling pantomime, "The Commencement", and most impressive in "The Last Conversation", written by Miss Quirin, a Greek chorus evocation of some worthwhile questions.

The windup is a madly funny musical takeoff on Albee's "Virginia Woolf", called "Virginia!", with Miss Quirin doing a largely hammy Martha and Alex Hermann doing his hilarious share.

These are a talented group of youngsters with their eyes open and they're right around the corner. For anyone who thinks this generation is going to hell in a cloud of pot, look again. Like next Thursday, Friday and Saturday at College of Marin when the tapes and machinery will be working, it is hoped.

Donors Aid College Fund, For Negroes

Anonymous donors have lifted the College of Marin Foundation's bank account by $2,000 but stipulated that the new funds were to be used to help Negro students at the college.

The college said donors specified that the money was to be used either to bolster existing Negro programs at the college or to aid black students who need financial assistance in their work for a four-year degree.

Joint Session On Plan For Bay

The Bay Conservation and Development Commission's plan to preserve San Francisco Bay will be discussed by the board of supervisors and the county planning commission at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow in the Civic Center.

The workshop session, in Room 400B, will precede the supervisors' regular meeting, scheduled to begin at 10:30 a.m.

The supervisors are scheduled to name additional members to the reorganized Marin County Economic Opportunity Council, discuss a new contract for private mental health care, consider a pedestrian safety problem on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Greenbrae and weigh Supervisor Thomas T. Storer's request to oppose plans for a missile site in Southern Marin.

Rotary Visit Set

The Terra Linda Rotary Club will host its new district governor, Robert E. Barwick of Napa, at a 12:15 p.m. luncheon meeting tomorrow at the Lin-Fa Gardens restaurant, Northgate Shopping Center.

Photos To Describe Quaker Aid Program

A photography exhibit commemorating 50 years of Quaker service will be on display at the Marin County Civic Center Thursday through Aug. 16, sponsored by the American Friends Service Committee.

Pictures will range from the Quaker's child feeding program in Germany after World War I to current efforts to help refugees in South Vietnam and poor people in Mississippi and in urban slums.

The Weddell seal is the world's most southerly mammal, a behemoth that reaches 10.5 feet in length and well over 1,000 pounds.

Another Instructor

The drillmaster in the picture on page 1 of Thursday's Independent-Journal was Sp/4 Lee Chironi of San Rafael, not Sgt. George Kowski of Sausalito as reported. The picture showed activities of area guardsmen and reserves who are in summer training at Camp Roberts, Monterey County.

Teen-Agers Ride Along On Police Night Beat

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The youth riding with the officer in the black and white police cruiser was not in trouble.

He was participating in a new program underway in 14 Los Angeles County communities that attempts to dispel teen-agers' distrust of police by having them accompany officers as they perform their duties.

The district attorney's office, which set up "ride-along" in cooperation with the police chiefs of the communities, hopes it will open up lines of communication between officers and teen-agers that will eliminate misunderstandings and hostilities.

GIVES INSIGHT

The project gives the teen-agers a first handand considerably different—view of a policeman's work and the myriad of tasks he is called upon to perform from notifying relatives in accident cases to mediating in family disputes.

After riding with a Culver City unit, Candy Thornhill, 17, a Los Angeles high school senior, said, "I was surprised at the variety of things they do. They're always there. They know what to do, how to handle a situation. There are so many things you don't know about the police department unless you get to know them."

Details of "ride-along" vary somewhat among the participating cities.

In suburban San Fernando, Police Chief Robert Owens said, "The teen-agers ride with a regular patrolman and he responds to the usual kind of calls. Hopefully he won't get involved in a shootout or something."

And if he does?

THEN 'DUCK'

"Duck," quipped the chief. Then he added seriously, "There's no sense of trying to take a teen-ager on some sheltered public relations type gimmick. If you don't do it for real, you might as well forget it."

However, some chiefs are reluctant to have the teen-agers in a regular patrol car because of the possible danger and instead assign him to a sergeant's unit.

Paul Kilcoyne, 17, of Northridge accompanied patrolman James O'Neal of the San Fernando Police Department in his patrol car on the 4 p.m. to midnight shift.

As he cruised the area, the personable young officer who has been on the force three years pointed out potential trouble spots: a drive-in where gang fights often erupt and a rundown section of tiny stucco and peeling frame cottages noted for drug traffic.

O'Neal passed a half dozen men gathered at the side of a building. "Everyone in that group has been busted for narcotics or burglary," he said.

He was called to a family dispute, to an accident, to a rescue call, to help remove a tree that had toppled across a street, and to a hotel where a man clad only in shorts was in a hallway with a gun threatening to blow off his head, but was quieted before the policeman arrived.

Between calls there was the behind business and industrial firms with headlights dark to check for possible burglaries checking suspicious cars for the possibility they might be stolen, and watching for traffic violators.

O'Neal explained to Paul the reason he did certain things, some of the problems he faces and some of the decisions he's called upon to make in dangerous situations.

Paul was surprised at the officer's eye for what appeared at first to be insignificant details.

"I just wouldn't think of all that he does," Paul said.

The program has only been under way a week, so officials have not yet been able to evaluate its results, although they are optimistic about its success on the basis of the initial experiences.

Admiral Gets Backing In Plea For Quiet Sub

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House-Senate committee has sided with vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover in his battle with the Pentagon to build a new, super-quiet submarine.

The Joint Committee on Atomic Energy said Saturday no valid reason has been offered for a Pentagon halt in spending for the sub two months ago and urged that all barriers to its construction be removed.

Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford announced July 1 that the Pentagon would proceed with plans to build a new, high-speed submarine. But he said the quiet sub still is under study.

Clifford rebuked Rickover, without naming him, for criticizing top civilian officials in the Pentagon in his testimony before congressional committees.

The atomic energy committee comments accompanied release of a censored transcript of testimony at a closed session June 21 in which Rickover lashed out again at repeated Pentagon studies and said, "The Department of Defense has become a huge thicket which stops decisions."

The House-Senate panel asserted, "Our Department of Defense has grossly underestimated the rate at which the Soviets are improving their nuclear submarines." It called for immediate development of the quiet sub as well as the high-speed super sub.

Rickover's quiet sub would be powered by electric turbine engines. After four years of work, the Pentagon stopped spending on it May 28.

Dr. John S. Foster, the Pentagon's director of defense research and engineering, told the committee the quiet sub may not be worth its cost because of new Soviet developments.

The nature of the Soviet sub improvements was censored from the transcript, but Foster did say, "The capabilities of the submarine may not justify the required investment in light of the threat."

Foster described the spending halt as a precautionary move to permit more studies.

The joint committee disagreed and said, "No valid basis for delaying this submarine was presented. Therefore, . . . all restraints on the design and construction of the submarine should be lifted and the work should be expedited."

The committee is headed by Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., and Rep. Chet Holified, D-Calif.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

THIRD SECTION | SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, MONDAY, JULY 29, 1968 | 21

SOUVENIR—Mark Emmons, 6, shows his family one possible use for an enigmatic art object they brought back from Colombia. Mark and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Emmons, and sister, Jessica, 4, were in the Independent-Journal office to tell of their life in the Foreign Service. (Independent-Journal photo by Jim Kean)

FOLLOWING THE FLAG

Foreign Service Pass To The World

By GLENN BECKER

East side, west side, all around the world.

The Foreign Service takes you where'er the Flag's unfurled . . .

It even takes to Washington, D.C., and that is where Charles Emmons and his family will be heading next week at the end of a four-week vacation in Marin County visiting his and his wife's parents.

They returned three weeks ago from a two-year tour of duty in Colombia. After training for the better part of a year, they will head for the Central African nation of Burundi. There, Emmons will become chief administrator of the embassy at the capital city, Bujumbura.

This may not be the most impressive post in the Foreign Service, but Emmons is only 32 years old and he has the enthusiasm for his work that should take him far in the Department of State.

"I've been trying to get into the Foreign Service for years, and I finally made it. We wanted to go to Africa, but they sent us to Colombia. It's like the military — you go where they send you."

In Colombia, he served one year in the embassy in Quito, helping to negotiate a $100 million loan to Colombia from the American Agency for International Development (AID). The next year he and his wife, Carol, and children, Mark, 6, and Jessica, 4, were in the smaller city of Cali.

Cali is about 100 miles — and four hours by road — from the coast. Emmons was vice consul there, and found it challenging work.

"One of the most interesting aspects of the vice consul's job was handling the consul's fund, also through AID. This is a small fund through which the consulate can give up to $300 to a worthy project that needs the money fast without the usual red tape. Because of this I was able to get out into the country a lot and work with the Peace Corps."

Emmons graduated from San Rafael High School, College of Marin and San Francisco State College. He entered government service out of college as an agent of the Defense Department keeping tabs on Polaris undersea missile production at the Aerojet General Corp. in Sacramento.

Later he was transferred to Washington, where he worked as a congressional liaison on the Polaris program.

He prefers the operation in the State Department to that of the Pentagon.

"I had a good job in Washington with the Department of Defense and I liked the people I worked with very much," he explains, "but I always wanted to work in a the Department of State.

"We're a small organization. The Department of Defense is so huge that you spend all day doing just one thing. I liken the State Department to a campus. You're dealing with intangibles. You very often have people who came straight from the universities. They're trying to hash out problems in a seminar atmosphere.

"In the State Department I have never had that feeling (of hugeness). I never met (former Secretary of Defense Robert S.) McNamara but we did meet (Secretary of State Dean) Rusk."

Emmons is just as high on his own branch of the State Department. "I was impressed with the tremendous amount of training they put into the foreign service program. For instance, I spent seven months at the Foreign Service Institue in Washington in basic training, language training and areas training."

After almost three years of training and working in a Latin American culture, he must go back to fundamentals and learn the French language and the culture of Burundi.

This weekend the Emmons clan returned to Lake Tahoe to see what the years have done to a favorite vacation retreat. Soon home will again will be far behind them, as they follow the flag to a far corner of the world.

Sausalito School Budget On Tap

A special meeting of the Sausaltio School Board to discuss the 1968-1969 budget will be held tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in the district office.

A public hearing on the budget is scheduled for next Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the district office.

Motorcycle Training Site Granted

The Marin County Planning Commission today overruled a staff decision and granted permission for a motorcycle training and meet site near Novato.

In a 4-2 vote, the commission upheld the appeal of the San Rafael Motorcycle Club from a June 21 decision by zoning administrator Thomas E. Cordill.

Cordill had denied the club's request to use a six-acre site at Highway 37 and Atherton Avenue for fear of noise, dust and traffic problems.

The commission granted the club a use permit good for a year. It said provisions for dust control, vehicular access, parking and sanitary facilities would have to be made subject to the approval of the county planning staff.

Voting in favor of Cordill's decision were commissioners Eugene R. Trombley, who said neighboring residents would be bothered by the track's operation, and Dr. William F. Upton.

Club representatives said they propose to lease the site and conduct a maximum of six meets a year. They denied the meets would be excessively noisy or dusty.

Circus Fund Of $7,646 To Retarded

The Marin County Deputy Sheriffs Association has donated $7,646, its profits from a fund-raising circus held earlier this year, to the Marin County aid to metally retarded children, according to deputy Robert F. Richmond, association vice president.

Richmond said the funds were the association's share of the profits from the Rudy Brothers Circus held May 25 and 26 at Marin Catholic High School.

The circus was one of three sponsored by Marin County police organizations earlier this year which came under fire from the better business bureau.

At that time, the Better Business Bureau warned prospective ticket buyers not to be misled about the amount of profit which would be donated to charity. The bureau said the actual amount donated to charity was only a percentage of the net profit with the circus owners being the only ones to determine what expenses were to be deducted from the gross profit.

Richmond said the sheriff's association received 60 per cent of the profit from the circus after the bills were paid. Circus owners received 40 per cent.

It was the first circus the association has sponsored, he said, and the officers have not decided whether to sponsor another one next year.

Teacher's Requests Combined

An order directing the Nicasio School District board to rehire Garnet E. Brennan or explain at a 9:15 a.m. hearing next Monday why such action has not been taken was issued today in Marin Superior Court.

The order in the form of an alternative writ of mandate was signed today by Judge Joseph G. Wilson and in effect combines a June 17 request by Mrs. Brennan for such an order with a hearing already scheduled Monday for an earlier suit.

The earlier suit was filed by the school district board Nov. 22 and asks the court to find that its charge that Mrs. Brennan's admission of 18 years of marijuana smoking is contrary to state law, constituted immoral conduct, and is true.

Mrs. Brennan, 58-year-old school teacher and principal was fired by the board after signing an affidavit in support of Melkon Melkonian, 32, of Mill Valley, convicted of selling 10 pounds of marijuana. She contested the firing, claiming the board's action deprived her of her right to free speech under the First Amendment.

Mrs. Brennan filed the June 17 application for the writ asking that the court order the board to rehire her for the 1968-69 year.

Richard Trial Set For Aug. 8

The manslaughter trial of Floyd Richard, 29, of San Francisco, has been set tentatively for 9:30 a.m. Aug. 8, a San Francisco court official said today.

Richard will be tried for the Dec. 22 death of Sp 4 Harry James Smiley of Novato, who was shot when a policemen's gun fired furing a struggle with Richard.

Judge Francis McCarthy will try the case in Dept. 22 of San Francisco Superior Court.

Richard is also scheduled for trial Aug. 28 on a charge of possessing marijuana. The policeman had stopped Smiley, Richard and a third man Dec. 22 because they believed a marijuana sale was taking place.

Bennett's PUC Demand Under Fire

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Four state Public Utilities Commission members have asked the state Supreme Court to reject fellow commissioner William M. Bennett's demand that he be supplied an examiner's draft report in the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. rate case.

The commissioners, in an answer filed late Friday, declared that Bennett's demand was premature. The commission was following its usual practice, and there was no reason for a court to interfere, they said.

The examiner in the hearings on the utility's request for a $181 on increase in annual revenue, F. Everett Emerson, told the court that he completed his draft report Tuesday.

When the draft is typed, the four commissioners said, it will be delivered to commissioners William Symons Jr. and Peter E. Mitchell, the commissioners assigned to hear the case. After review and editing by the two, the draft will be submitted to the full five-member commission. Any changes from the draft then will be made known to all comissioners, they said.

Bennett, a consistent critic of big utility operations, contended that he needed earlier access to the examiner's draft to prepare his judgment on the rate boost request.

Innocent Plea Made In Concealing Case

Innocent plea by George Michael Stiltner, 21, was entered in Marin Superior Court today on a charge of concealing stolen property.

Jury trial was scheduled for the week of Sept. 3. Stiltner, of Kentfield, and Roger Wayne Ploof, 18, of San Rafael, are jointly accused of having an amplifier and a turntable taken from the home of Thomas Bronson, 138 Redwood Road, Fairfax.

Third Meeting

The third meeting of the San Rafael Goldenaires, a new group for adults of 50 or older, will be held at 11 a.m. Wednesday at the San Rafael Community Recreation Center, Second and Brooks streets. Those attending should bring their own lunch, according to the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department which sponsors the group. Refreshments will be served.

Today is Monday, July 29, the 211th day of 1968 with 155 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning star is Saturn. The evening stars are Venus and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1754, Jack Slack of Britain knocked out Jean Petit of France in 25 minutes in the first international boxing match.

In 1914, the first transcontinental telephone linkup was completed with a conversation between New York and San Francisco.

In 1967, 129 men were killed when fire swept the U.S. carrier Forestall off the coast of Vietnam.

A thought for the day: Booth Tarkington said, "It really is the land of nowadays that we never discover."

FINAL MATCH

Benito Garozzo helped the Italian team win the Bridge Olympics a few weeks ago by a well-planned swindle of Norman Kay in the final match against the United States.

Kay led the six of diamonds from the West hand, and Garozzo allowed Edgar Kaplan to hold the first trick with the queen of diamonds. Kaplan returned the four diamonds, and Garozzo took his ace.

Now Garozzo casually led the four of spades from the South hand. If Garozzo had first cleared the ace of clubs out of the way Kay would have seen the concealed stiletto; but Barozzo's actual play gave the American expert no warning.

PLAYS LOW

Not realizing that his side had two trump tricks, Kay played a low spade from the East hand. Dummy's queen of spaeds won, and now Garozzo was safe.

Garozzo cashed the ace of clubs and returned to the dummy by ruffing a diamond. Then he discarded two spades on dummy's top clubs, ruffed a spade in his hand and led his last diamond.

NO SPADES

Kay could step up with the queen of trumps, but it wouldn't help him. He actually discarded a spade, and dummy safely ruffed. Now Garozzo took the ace of trumps and gave up a trump. The defenders got their two trumps and a diamond, but they didn't get a spade trick.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer you hold:

♠ K Q 8 2
♥ J 6 2
♦ J 2
♣ K Q 8 4

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

You have 12 points in high cards and 1 point for the doubleton, but you should not bid even though 13 points is enough for an optional opening bid. Avoid counting points for unsupported jacks, and also avoid opening the bidding with an aceless, borderline hand.

LUXURY HOME WITH POOL

An adult home with all the luxury, special features and extras found only in a very few homes. This is not an overly large home, only 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, family room with BBQ pit, living room with large fireplace, luxury kitchen with all the extras and large 2-car garage with plenty of storage. But the real value lies in its quality construction and immaculate condition, almost perfection. The ⅓ acre of level grounds and pool match the condition of the home. We could not estimate the value of its beautifully kept grounds and Oriental garden. The rare exotic plants and trees are irreplaceable. This is one of our finest exclusives. Only $56,950

Pacifica Youths Go On Rampage

PACIFICA (UPI) — A teenage demonstration erupted into a rock and bottle throwing melee last night in which suburban youths ripped billy clubs and Mace cannisters from policemen and attacked the officers.

Nine youngsters were arrested and several policemen injured in dozens of skirmishes at a shopping center.

CALL FOR HELP

Outnumbered Pacifica police, pummeled and knocked to the ground, called for help and 50 lawmen from surrounding communities rushed to their aid. They formed a wedge and drove about 125 youngsters from the center.

"These kids pulled clubs from at least two officers, and several others were knocked down and assaulted during the early stages of the disturbance," said Sgt. Raymond Karczewski. He was knocked to the pavement and kicked and the windshield of his cruiser smashed with a rock.

YANK CANNISTERS

Police tried to use Mace, a disabling chemical spray, to disperse the crowd. But several teen-agers yanked the cannisters from policemen's hands and turned the spray on the officers.

Dozens of teen-agers began picketing the two dozen stores at Linda Mar shopping center during the afternoon, protesting a new city ordinance prohibiting loitering in the center. They claimed the shopping complex was the only place where they could buy refreshments and relax.

By evening the crowd had grown to 125. The youths grew unruly, and started hurling bottles and rocks, after a motorist brushed two of the pickets with his car while leaving a service station.

Scores of youths cursed and shouted at police during the melee. Some of those arrested were freed from police vans by their friends. The nine apprehended were charged with assault on a police officer, resisting arrest, unlawful assembly, disturbing the peace and use of obscene language.

Deputy Injured In Patrol Crash

A Marin County sheriff's deputy was injured today when his patrol car hit a slow-moving truck on Highway 101, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Joseph O. Fitzgerald, 30, of 3 Lauren Avenue, Novato, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut chin and bruised right leg after the 1:10 a.m. accident.

The highway patrol said Fitzgerald's patrol car hit the rear of a truck driven by Howard J. Darrigan, 57, of San Pablo, on the Alto Hill, Fitzgerald, according to the patrol, was checking a stalled car on the shoulder and looked up to find Darrigan's truck immediately in front of him.

Ross Motorcyclist Suffers Knee Injury

William H. Grace, 20, of Glenwood Avenue, Ross, suffered a sprained knee when his motorcycle spilled Saturday on the Fairfax-Bolinas road a mile west of Alpine Dam.

The accident occurred at 3:30 p.m. Saturday, the California Highway Patrol said, but was not reported until yesterday when Grace was treated at Marin General Hospital after his knee stiffened.

Merola Fund Singers A Group Of Winners

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—You might say Ariel Bybee is a delayed spark from an electric wire.

If so, the Salt Lake City music teacher at 25 is illuminating an almost certain future as an international opera star.

Last year the soprano, who has lived in Los Angeles and Reno, couldn't make the Merola Fund auditions because she walked into a live wire.

Fully recovered from shock and burns, the Brigham Young University music graduate won second prize this year in competition with 11 other regional winners. Miss Bybee also placed the fund in the almost unheard of position of discovering at least two singers of her potential in a single year.

Critics and audition judges say that both Miss Bybee and the first prize winner, 22-year-old Shigemi Matsumoto, of Reseda, Calif., a June graduate from San Fernando State College, have brilliant, well-trained soprano voices and the acting power needed for grand opera.

This doesn't mean that others in the most talented class ever invited to participate in the Merola Fund training program won't make it. The group has an average age of 25, yet includes three members with or working for doctorates and a number with degrees of master of music. Nearly all have had a year or more of operatic or other professional singing experience.

The class includes four closely matched baritones headed by David Holloway, 24, of Denver, third prize winner and one of the leads in the world premier of Douglas Moore's opera, "Carry Nation."

Morris Crisci of San Diego, a tenor, is back again this year. He won his regional auditions two years in a row and was awarded third prize in the finals last year.

It is almost certain that a number of trainees will meet casting needs of Western Opera Theater. Miss Matsumoto already has signed a contract for the eight-month season and has agreed to learn five roles.

Others, like soaring-voiced Maria Novak, a Portland, Ore., soprano, have other commitments. Miss Novak, 25, will go on to Vienna to study Mozart operas as a Petri award winner.

While the current class is promising, the fund has helped operatic careers in the past.

Most noted are Wagnerian tenor Jess Thomas and Sopranos Jane Marsh of Mill Valley, and Janis Martin. Thomas was 1957 winner. He participated in the auditions after he was persuaded to try out for student opera at Stanford.

Some singers were quite young when they passed through the Merola program, but not Robert Glover. The tenor, a former Canadian professional hockey star, was 35, the age limit, when he won the Merola first prize in 1963. He later won acclaim for his portrayal of Mime in the San Francisco Opera production of Rheingold. He has sung other roles with the San Francisco Opera, Spring Opera and with Canadian companies.

Soprano Heather Thomson, 1964 winner, sang two seasons with London's Sadler Wells Opera. Soprano Carol Todd, a 1962 winner, performed with a number of American opera companies. Baritone Allan Monk, after singing with the Merola program in 1966, toured with Western Opera Theater for two seasons and is now a member of the San Francisco Opera Company.

Soprano Delcina Stevenson, 1966 audition winner, had roles for two seasons with San Francisco Opera, and starred as Mimi in La Boheme and as Fiordiligi in Cosi Fan Tutte in the Western Opera Theater season just completed.

The Merola Fund, established in memory of Gaetano Merola, founding director of San Francisco Opera, invited the 12 regional audition winners and eight other young singers for training this year by a professional staff. The class is put through seven weeks of seven-day weeks of instruction.

All 20 singers—including Miss Bybee and Miss Matsumoto — realize that despite their talents they still need dedicated study for fully matured performances.

Miss Evalina Colorni of the New York City Juillard School of Music is perhaps the best known of the professional staff members. She is individual coach for many opera singers in linguistics and diction.

Instruction generally is given focal point by producing two operas with class participation. La Boheme will be presented at Stern Grove July 28. The other, The Magic Flute, will be put on at the Paul Masson Vineyards near Saratoga Aug. 10 and 11. Miss Matsumoto is expected to sing Pamina. At the August 11 performance the $1,000 Gropper Memorial Award will be presented to the member of the program judged to have made the most progress.

The operas are being staged by Matthew Farrugio and Ghita Hager.

Girl Seeking Pumper's Job

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — Bebe Merrill, 22-year-old coed at Hudson Valley Community College, may yet get the job she wants at a local service station.

Miss Merrill answered an ad for a station attendant but was told it was against company policy to "hire girls for that kind of work."

She took the matter to the State Division of Human Rights, which got the station to agree to consider her for a job when another vacancy occurs.

Miss Merrill said she had pumped gas for years at her uncle's station in her native Houston, Tex.

Globemaster Jungle Crash Fatal To 10

DOBBINS AIR FORCE BASE, Ga. (AP)—A C124 Globemaster carrying a crew of 10 crashed in South American jungles last night, and the Air Force said there were no survivors.

The Globemaster was attached to a unit from Dobbins, and it is believed the entire crew is from the Atlanta area.

A spokesman said the four-engine plane crashed in mountainous jungles 47 miles northwest of Recife, the most eastern large city in Brazil. The plane was hauling freight from Zanderij Airport in Surinam to Recife.

Although a C124 normally carries a crew of either five or six, an additional flight crew sometimes is placed aboard for training purposes. The Dobbins spokesman said this apparently was the case.

The Globemaster was from the 445th Military Airlift Wing's 700th Military Airlift Squadron.

New Social Group Begun For Co-Op

Marin Co-Opers Unattached will meet for the first time at 8 p.m. today at the Marin Co-Op store on Tamal Vista Boulevard in Corte Madera, according to a club founder, Barbara Kennedy.

Open to all unmarried Marin residents, the meeting will include election of officers and setting of policy. A party in Sausalito will follow, she said.

Juan Wins His 19th

CHICAGO (AP) — The San Francisco Giants opened up a two-game stand against the Chicago Cubs today, hoping to break a fourth place tie with their hosts.

The Giants beat Houston 4-2 in 11 innings yesterday as Juan Marichal notched his 19th win against 4 losses. It gave San Francisco the series, 2-1. Chicago meanwhile downed the Los Angeles Dodgers 8-3 and 1-0 yesterday. The Giants and Cubs are now 15 games back of league-leading St. Louis.

Gaylord Perry (8-9) was to be on the mound for San Francisco today against the Cubs' Gary Ross (1-0) newcomer bought from San Antonio the last of June.

Marichal hit a tie-breaking single with two out in the 11th to put the Giants ahead yesterday. A walk and a single by Ty Cline provided an insurance run.

Marichal had blanked the Astros on one hit through the first six innings and finally ended up passing out seven hits.

Houston pushed over one run in the seventh and tied it up in the eighth at 2-2. Bob Barton had singled in San Francisco's first run in the fourth.

The victory put Marichal ahead of the 30-game mark — last made by Dizzy Dean for the St. Louis Cards in 1934 when he had a 38-7 record.

Denny McClain of the Detroit Tigers currently has 20 wins to his credit.

Marichal said:

"I don't think about 30 wins. I only worry about Juan and the Giants. I'm glad for him (McClain) to have a good year, but he doesn't mean anything to me —he's in the other league.

Marichal admitted he would like to win 30 but said he is thinking no further than his next starting assignment.

"I just take them one at a time," he added.

So far Marichal is 12-1 on the road. His only loss was in the

A's Kennedy Is Surprised

OAKLAND (AP)—Who would have thought the Oakland A's would have a 50-50 record after the first 100 games of the American League baseball season?

Manager Bob Kennedy of the A's did not.

"I really didn't know what to expect after the second day of spring training, but I didn't think we would be 50-50 at this time.

"Let's say I'm surprised and pleased."

The A's reached the .500 mark with a 4-3 win over the Minnesota Twins yesterday. At this time last year—in Kansas City—the A's had a 43-57 record and were in 10th place.

Right now they are in fifth place, 12½ games behind the first-place Detroit Tigers.

Jim Nash was the winning pitcher yesterday although he needed ninth inning relief help from Paul Lindblad.

Nash got his pitching schedule fouled up when Lew Krausse had to be used in relief Saturday night against the Twins.

Nash had been scheduled to pitch tonight against Chicago and Krauss was supposed to pitch yesterday.

"Nash just ran out of gas," Kennedy said. "He wasn't planning on pitching for another day and worked too hard in practice."

Nash was cruising along with a three-hitter in a 4-1 lead until the ninth inning. Rich Reese led off with a single and Jim Holt hit a long fly to right field for an out. Then powerful Bob Allison hit Nash's next pitch far into the left field bleachers to cut the score to 4-3.

That was all for Nash. Lindblad got the last two outs of the game on flies to the outfield.

Nash said: "I made a bad pitch to Allison. It was a hanging curve ball, the same pitch I hit for my homer."

Nash's homer touched off the three-run Oakland rally that won the game. He whacked a 350-footer off losing pitcher Jim Merritt in the fifth inning.

A triple by Bert Campaneris and singles by Danny Cater and Sal Bando scored the other two runs.

All three Minnesota runs yesterday came on homers. Catcher John Roseboro homered in the second.

The A's open a two-game series with the Chicago White Sox at the Coliseum tonight at 8 o'clock with John Odom, 9-6, pitching for Oakland and Tommy John, 7-3, for the White Sox.

San Rafael Nine Takes To Road

With nine cruicial games left in the league season, the Litchfield Braves of San Rafael swing onto the road tied with the Eureka Crabs for the Western Baseball Association lead with an 18-9 record.

The Braves took two out of three from Milton Freewater, Ore., at Albert Field this weekend, winning Saturday, 6-4, and splitting a doubleheader yesterday, behind Greg Tellis' one-hit, 6-1 victory in the nightcap after losing the first game, 5-3.

The road trip starts tomorrow with a three-game series in Bellingham, Wash.

SIX-HITTER

Ben Trujillo and Ron Cole combined for a nifty six-hitter in Saturday's nine-inning opener. Rich Menise's two-run single in the second inning put the Braves ahead for good in that game.

Paul Lee's two-run homer in the second inning wasn't enough to avert a loss in yesterday's opener, as Milton Freewater scored two runs in the fifth inning to snap a 3-3 tie, handing starter Bill Clark the loss.

HOMER

Art Blunt smashed a first-inning three-run homer over the centerfield fence for the Braves in the nightcap and the Braves were home free.

John Burnett returned to action in big style, getting three singles and a double.

Tellis, normally a reliever, got his first start and responded with a gem of a one-hitter.

HERE COMES THE RUN—Gene Frey of Twin Cities comes in arms spread to score Twin Cities' second run in Section I Little League Tournament play at Novato Saturday while Gallinas Valley catcher Albert Tomazi yells for the ball in vain. Twin Cities won, 4-2. (Independent-Journal photo by Jim Kean)

Twin Cities Wins Li'l League Title

Twin Cities Little League team woke up from a bad dream in the first inning and went on to capture the Section One Little League Tournament Championship in a heated contest at Novato, Saturday afternoon.

Gallinas Valley, the closely-fought game artist of the tourney, jumped off to a 2-0 lead against Twin Cities in the first inning, but a combination of six errors and Twin Cities reliever Mark Ruggles did them in.

Twin Cities, under a hot Novato sun came back with single runs in the first and second innings, then rode Ruggles' two-run hit in the third inning to victory.

Ruggles took over for starter Larry Ray in the first inning, after Ray had given up two runs. He held Gallinas Valley scoreless the rest of the way, allowing five hits.

Gallinas Valley got its two runs on a two-run single by Tom Slevin.

Twin Cities' first run came on a run-scoring single by Doug Matsui. Scott Kaplan drove in the second run in the following inning, and Ruggles' two-run hit clinched it.

The victory gave Twin Cities a spot in the sectional Little League tournament at Joe Wagner field in Corte Madera, beginning Thursday and running through Saturday.

Twin Cities meets Lafayette in the tourney opener at 6 p.m. Thursday, followed by a Petaluma-Sacramento clash at 6 p.m. Friday. The winners play at 3 p.m. Saturday while the losers clash at 1 p.m. on the same day.

In a consolation game yesterday, Kentfield-Greenbrae downed Novato National, 6-2, on Phil Bacigalupi's three-run homer.

That Winning Feeling Pays Off For Golfer Dan Sikes

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Dan Sikes may not be clairvoyant, but he had that winning feeling even before the tournament started.

At any rate, he had a lot going for him the past week, which he climaxed with a one-stroke victory yesterday to win the $20,000 top money in the Minnesota Golf Classic.

TO SEVENTH

The big payday pushed Sikes' earnings for the year to $76,046 and enabled him to leap from 17th to seventh on the PGA money standings for 1968—ahead of such luminaries as Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Frank Beard, who chose not to compete here.

Sikes, from Jacksonville, Fla., beat young Ken Still with a 12-under par 272 over Keller Golf Course, which plays to a par 71. Still, who won $12,000, was tied for the lead until he took a bogey on the 15th hole of the final round yesterday. It was the fifth tournament in which the Tacoma, Wash., pro has been the bridesmaid.

FINAL 64

Sikes had a final-round 64, while Still shot a 68 for his 273.

"On the plane coming here," Sikes explained after his victory, "I said I felt I was building up to where I could win a tournament. You can feel it building up."

However, Sikes admitted he needed a lift—and he got it in a torrid first nine holes yesterday. He shot seven birdies and one bogey for a six-under on the first nine.

"When I shot those 71s on the first and third rounds," Sikes said, "I thought I was out of it. And I bogeyed the last two holes Saturday, and that disturbed me."

PICK ME UP

"I needed something to pick me up," he said, "and I got it."

He went seven under par after getting birdies on the first, third, fifth and sixth holes, sandwiched around a bogey on the second.

Then on the seventh, Sikes drove into the rough, but recovered and sank an 18-foot birdie putt. Then on No. 8, he really got in tune.

"On eight, I did the impossible," he said. "I blasted out of a bunker and it rolled in from about 30 feet. From then on, I knew somebody was helping me.

"It was one of those rounds that makes you feel somebody up there is with you."

Asked if he has his sights set on being the tour's leading money winner, Sikes replied, "I'd settle right now for a year just like last year." He won $111,508 in 1967 to rank fifth among the touring pros.

Still, who continues to find that big pot of gold elusive to capture on the pro tour, was happy with his $12,000 second-place money. "That will pay the bills," he quipped. "Actually, I'm not too upset. In a tournament this close, it was bound to be decided by one stroke."

Tom Weiskopf matched Sikes' final-round 64 for his best tour round and won the $7,500 third-place money at 274. That put him ahead of Billy Casper, who also did not compete here, as the leading PGA money winner this year. Weiskopf now has won $136,686 and Casper $135,935.

FOURTH

Tied for fourth at 275 and winners of $4,366 were Brown, defending champion Graham and Bob Dickson. Dickson shot a 68 and Brown and Graham both had 71s Sunday.

A half-dozen more were locked at 276 and won $2,750 each. They were Tommy Aaron, Steve Oppermann, Billy Maxwell, Phil Rodgers, Bob Stanton and Dale Douglass.

Ron Cerrudo of San Rafael won $892 with his 280.

Two-Way Tie In DiMaggio Baseball

Thre are now two teams at the top in the Marin County Joe DiMaggio League following yesterday's action.

Annex Motors and Toby Truckers are tied with 9-3 records. Annex advanced by defeating Herb's Pool Service 6-4, with catcher Wally Campbell turning in a two for three performance with both of his hits being good for runs batted in.

In other action, Toby's Truckers stayed in the running for first by beating the Mill Valley Chiefs, 3-1.

Mike Parnow and Rick Denning turned in sterling performances with Parnow getting three hits off of Chiefs' pitcher Don Mackin and Denning pounding out a three base hit.

Elsewhere, it was Indian Valley Lumber downing San Rafael's Van Ness Dodge, 4-0. Indian Valley is now tied for second with Herb's Pool Service, each team sporting an 8-4 record.

Maggi's Florist traveled to the Presidio Toros' home diamond to defeat the Toros, 11-5. It was the Maggi's third season victory on their way out of a nine-game losing slump. The Toros registered their 10th loss to fall back into a tie for last place with VanNess Dodge.

Dave Alvarado managed to connect for three hits; two doubles and a single, to turn in the Maggs top performance.

Arsenic Is Found In Mascot

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — A veterinarian at the University of Maryland said today that a high level of arsenic was found in the stomach of Bill XVI, one of the two goats that served as mascots of the U.S. Naval Academy football team which were found dead last week.

Autopsy findings on the other mascot, an Irish, beer-drinking goat named King Puck, were not yet complete.

Both goats were found dead in their pen at the Naval Academy dairy farm near Gambrills last Thursday.

The only surviving goat is Bill XV, 14 years old and suffering from arthritis who was retired last year.

Dr. Bernard Sass, assistant veterinarian at the university's livestock sanitary service and laboratory, said preliminary examinations showed a high level of arsenic content in the stomach of Bill XVI.

Frenchman Wins Race; British Driver Is Killed

ZANDVOORT, Netherlands (AP) — France's Jean Pierre Beltoise drove his Matra Cosworth Ford to victory yesterday in the Grand Prix Formula 2 auto race marred by the death of Christ Lambert of Great Britain. (See picture, page 34.)

Lambert, 24-year-old chemistry graduate of Birmingham University, was killed outright when his Brabham Cosworth Ford collided with another auto, spun off the track, rolled over and crashed over the railing. The second driver wasn't hurt.

He was the third top British racer to die this year. Jim Clark of Scotland, a former world champion, lost his life on Germany's Hockenheim circuit in April and Mike Spence was killed in May while practicing for the Indianapolis 500.

Beltoise averaged 105 miles per hour and finished in one hour, 13 minutes, 52.18 seconds. France's Henri Pescarolo was second, also in a Matra, ahead of Richard Attwood of Britain, Silvio Moser of Switzerland and Eric Offenstadt of France, all in Tecno Cosworth Fords.

Kevin Hardy Meditating His Pro Football Future

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jerry Hildebrand is a St. Louis Cardinal again, Detroit quarterback Bill Nunson is a hospital patient and Kevin Hardy, well, he's still just meditating.

Hildebrand, a linebacker, had been sent to the Minnesota Vikings to complete a deal which recently sent safety Brady Keys to the Cardinals.

But the Vikings announced yesterday that Hildebrand, who has been hampered by knee trouble, failed to pass his physical and was being returned to the Cardinals.

A Viking spokesman said the Cardinals now must give up another player or a high draft choice.

Munson, obtained in an offseason trade and now the Lions' No. 1 quarterback, was scheduled to undergo an operation today for removal of a bone growth in his right leg. He'll be out of action for at least two weeks.

Karl Sweetan and rookie Greg Barton will alternate at quarterback for the Lions' first exhibition game, Aug. 5.

And Hardy, ordered by Football Commissioner Pete Rozelle 49ers as partial payment for the Saints' signing of Dave Parks, remained in the New Orleans Saints training camp at San Diego, yesterday.

"I guess I'll just have to meditate," he said.

Parks, a veteran receiver, played out his option with the 49ers last season, then signed on with the Saints last week. As payment, Rozelle ordered the Saints to give up Hardy, a rookie but highly prized plus their No. 1 draft choice for 1969.

Hardy was greatly upset.

"I don't know what I can do," he said. "If Rozelle tells you to jump, I guess you're supposed to jump. But I haven't been around here long enough to jump. I am confused by it all and don't know what I want to do. Perhaps I'll get myself a lawyer, I just don't know."

The Atlanta Falcons signed two key players, fullback Junior Coffey and halfback Perry Lee Dunn, leaving 11 veteran unsigned.

The Pittsburgh Steelers reported that Bob Wade, a cornerback, suffered a knee injury in Saturday's scrimmage and now is on crutches.

Miami put seven free agents and 12th round draft choice, tackle Paul Paxton, on waivers. Coach George Wilson said he originally had planned to cut 15, but changed his mind after the Dolphins' scrimmage Saturday.

The Boston Patriots released rookie Ron Persuitte when three veterans returned to camp aftr completing their National Guard summer training. They are center Jon Morris, guard Karl Singer and fullback Bob Cappadona.

WHAT'S THE STORY ON CAIN'S $47.00 BRAKE JOB??

This is a question we are asked every day. I feel that those who are asking expect some kind of gimmick. Let me say this—there is no gimmick and no extra charges. You can't get a better or more complete brake job—I don't care if you spend $80 to $100.

Here is what we do:

1. We completely clean the entire brake system and all springs and parts involved (even the high priced jobs seldom do this).
2. We turn Drums on Every job.
3. We buy the best power brake lining oversized—then we arch the shoes to fit the drums. (This a mark of a real quality job—and most brake shops just don't take the time to do it.)
4. Rebuild All cylinders.
5. Service self-adjusting systems.
6. Set hand brake.
7. Inspect lines and add fluid.
8. Adjust brake pedal for proper feel.
9. Road test.
10. Then we pack it and wait for you to pay us $47.00 plus Sales Tax.

AND THAT'S IT!!

NATIONAL LEAGUE

It's A Great Day For Al McBean

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's got to be a great day for a pitcher when he survives a 13-hit attack by the National League leading St. Louis Cardinals, beats them 7-1—and also hits a grand slam home run for good measure.

But it could have been even better for Pittsburgh's Al McBean. Much better.

"I didn't know the bases were loaded when I hit the home run," McBean said Sunday. "I knew there were runners on base and was figuring I could help myself by getting a hit.

"But if I had known when I hit it that it was a grand slam, you really would have thought I'm a hot dog. I probably would have been jumping in the air when I passed first base and would have gone around the bases hopping like a jackrabbit."

Elsewhere in the National League, the Chicago Cubs beat the Los Angeles Dodgers twice, 8-3 and 1-0, Philadelphia stopped Atlanta 3-0 on Larry Jackson's three-hitter, Jim Maloney and Clay Carroll combined to hurl Cincinnati to a one-hit 5-3 triumph over the New York Mets and Juan Marichal singled home the winning run and gained his 19th victory as San Francisco outlasted Houston 4-2 in 11 innings.

McBean got his grand slam with two out in the fifth inning. After a single by Roberto Clemente and walks to Manny Mota and Jerry May, McBean hit the first pitch from Larry Jaster over the left field wall.

The Pirates had taken a 3-1 lead in the second on Clemente's triple, Donn Clendenon's ninth homer, Mota's double and Maury Wills' single.

The Cubs' sweep of Los Angeles put them in a virtual tie with San Francisco for fourth place and came before a home town crowd of 44,261, largest in 20 years, lured by a streak that has seen the Bruins win 17 of 23 games.

Billy Williams doubled to touch off a four-run fourth inning off Don Drysdale in the opener and then slammed a fifth-inning homer. The eight runs were the most scored against Drysdale in more than two years.

Ken Holtzman struck out 10 and hurled a four-hitter in the nightcap. The Cubs scored in the fifth on Al Spangler's single and Randy Hundley's double.

The double defeat dropped the Dodgers deeper into ninth place. They have lots 31 of 44 games since a seven-game winning streak, put them in second place June 9.

Jackson, a 37-year-old right-hander, pitched hitless ball for 5 2-3 innings as the Phillies shut out Atlanta for the second straight day. Tony Taylor paced the attack with three doubles and scored twice.

Maloney gave the Mets a first-inning run on a walk to Larry Stahl and Cleon Jones' double—their only hit. But Cincinnati jumped on Tom Seaver for two runs in the second on a double by Tony Perez and singles by Tommy Helms, Woody Woodward and Pete Rose and kayoed the All-Star hurler in the third when Lee May socked a two-run homer.

May homered again, his 14th, in the eighth after the Mets had closed to 4-3 in the sixth on three walks, an error and an infield out. Carroll relieved with bases loaded and none out and pitched hitless ball over the final four innings.

M.V. Merchants Boost Record

The Mill Valley Merchants upped their season record to 6-2 with a 5-2 win over Hatzell Radio at Optimist Field in Mill Valley yesterday.

Dave Perlis hurled a two-hitter for the Merchants while Skip Schafer and Terry Jarcik with two hits apiece paced a seven-hit attack. Schafer drove in two runs with a triple.

The M.V. Merchants meet the Novato Merchants at 8 p.m. Saturday at Albert Field, then follow with a game against Ellis-Brooks Chevrolet also at Albert Field, Sunday at 1 p.m.

Ears Can Deceive For Punt Returner

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ben Davis, the Cleveland Brown rookie who led National Football League punt return men last year with a 12.7 yard average, prefers to run kickoffs rather than punts. He has a good reason.

"I have trouble on a windy day, wondering if the punt will ever come down," says Davis.

"The sound of the trampling hoofs used to bother me, but the coaches tell me I'm not supposed to hear them, so I don't."

SWEET VICTORY

The rewards of winning can be pleasant as Dan Sikes finds out getting a big kiss and a check for $20,000 from Roni Axelrod after Sikes won the Minnesota Golf Classic with a 12-under-par 272. (UPI Telephoto)

Hub Softballers Move Into Tourney Finals

The Sohner Tree Service team of San Anselmo moved into the finals of the Tri-County District Softball Tournament at Santa Rosa's Howard Park, battling the Sebastopol Merchants at 7 o'clock tonight.

The Treemen moved into the finals with a couple of key victories over the weekend, dumping the Coast Merchants, 5-1, Friday night, then crushing the Santa Rosa Merchants, 14-1, in hesterday's semi-final clash.

COULD CLINCH

If the San Anselmo team wins tonight, they will have the title clinched. A loss would force another game in the double-elimination tourney. Thirteen teams from Marin, Sonoma and Mendocino County were entered in the tournament.

Morey Swarm, after giving up an unearned run in the first inning Friday night, blanked the Coast Merchants the rest of the way while his teammates collected nine hits and five runs. Jess Munyon's double and Ron Reagan's single got the go-ahead run in the fifth inning for the Treemen. Nolan Wilson had a two-run homer for the winners.

POWER

The Santa Rosa Merchants never got unwound yesterday. Starter Clyde Wiggens never got anybody out as his first three pitches went for a triple by Ron McCamish, another triple by Wilson, and a double by Gary Swarm. After a walk to Munyon, Reagan blasted Wiggens' first offering over the left-field fence for a three-run shot and it was bye-bye Wilson and Merchants.

Harrelson Regains Batting Touch

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Hawk is making lazy circles on the bases again . . . but he won't take credit for his latest swoop.

"There's only two words you need to know: Bobby Doerr. He did it again," said Ken "Hawk" Harrelson yesterday after his two-run ninth inning homer swept the Boston Red Sox past the Washington Senators 10-8.

Harrelson, who stroked a single and double in addition to his 23rd homer, went on to explain that Doerr, a Red Sox coach, had found a flaw in his swing and helped pull him out of a brief batting slump.

"That's the first time I've hit a ball like that in a week and a half," said the slugging outfielder, who has connected for 13 game-winning hits—seven of them homers—this season.

In other American League action yesterday Baltimore Salvaged the finale of a three-game series with first place Detroit 5-1 behind Dave McNally's three-hitter; Cleveland swept a doubleaheader from the New York Yankees 3-2 and 4-1; Oakland nipped Minnesota 4-3 and the Chicago White Sox edged California 2-1.

Harrelson, who equaled his previous season home run high with the ninth inning blast off Bob Humphreys at Washington, said he'd taken extra post-game batting practice Saturday after Doerr spotted him opening his left shoulder and dropping his right during a 3-for-20 tailspin at the plate.

"I thought it was my hands," Harrelson said. "It wasn't. I tried five different hand positions. Then Bobby said, 'Don't worry about your hands. Drive your shoulders toward the pitcher and your hands will be all right.' "

Thus enlightened, the Hawk punched a single and scored a run in the fifth inning yesterday and doubled in the seventh as the Red Sox tallied twice for an 8-8 deadlock. Carl Yastrzemski opened the ninth with a single and Harrelson hit Humphreys' next pitch into the left field bullpen.

The homer boosted Harrelson's batting average to .292—second best in the league. He leads the majors with 74 runs batted in.

McNally, who has won five straight, blanked the Tigers until Willie Horton hit his 26th homer with two out in the ninth. Frank Robinson's two-run homer keyed a 10-hit Baltimore attack that moved the second place Orioles within 6½ games of Detroit.

The Indians snapped a four-game losing string and surged within seven games of the league leaders as right-handers Luis Tiant and Stan Williams, backed by five bases-empty homers, stymied the Yankees.

Home runs by Lou Johnson, Joe Azcue and Tommy Harper gave Tiant his 17th victory against six losses. Tiant hurled a five-hitter and struck out 10. Williams, 8-5, scattered 10 hits in the nightcap while Duke Sims and Larry Brown homered for Cleveland.

The White Sox managed only three hits at Anaheim, but Pete Ward's two-run single in the first inning was enough to get by the Angels, who have dropped five in a row. Winning pitcher Jack Fisher scattered eight hits, including a homer by Rick Reichardt, before getting eighth inning relief help from Wilbur Wood.

Blue Chips Falter And Prices Slip

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market today closed with a sharp loss in moderately active trading.

After a fairly firm start, prices lost ground slowly. Oils and other blue chips failed to show the leadership they displayed Friday. This discouraged traders and increased the disposition either to take profits or stand aside.

Concern over a possible business dip in the months ahead and the Czech-Soviet crisis were cited as factors, along with disappointment in the inability of blue chips to provide leadership.

In a delayed opening, Ling-Temco-Vought dropped about 15 points as the company denied rumors concerning recapitalization and a personal tender for the stock from the company's chairman.

Occidental Petroleum, down about 1½, was the most-active stock as it sagged on the report that Texaco had filed suit against it on a charge of pirating exploration secrets.

Among other very active issues, losses of around 2 were taken by Sunasco, Commercial Credit and Global Marine, while Sperry Rand, Mobil Oil, Chrysler, and U.S. Industries dropped a point or so. Phillips Petroleum held steady in active trading.

Less heavily traded, General Motors and Du Pont lost a couple of points each. MCA Inc., lost 3 points, wiping out its advance of Friday prior to news that it planned merger with Westinghouse Electric, which dipped fractionally.

IBM also lost about 3. Polaroiad dropped 2, Xerox 1. Pfizer gained a point.

Store Dividend

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — Directors of Broadway-Hale Stores, Inc., have declared a regular quarterly dividend of 25 cents a share, payable Aug. 31 to shareholders of record Aug. 15.

Miles To Buy SOS Business

ELKHART, Ind. (BW) — Directors of Miles Laboratories, Inc., have approved the purchase of the SOS business of General Foods Corp. for $55 million cash.

The board of directors of General Foods also has approved the sale. Both companies have signed the formal purchase agreement.

Federal Trade Commission approval of the transaction has been received and the closing date will be set following the completion of an audit, Miles president Walter A. Compton said.

Business Auto Costs Going Up, Two Eastern Surveys Discover

DETROIT (UPI)—Like everything else, it costs more than ever today to own and drive a car. Not only is the initial cost of a car steadily going up, but so is the operating cost.

Want to take a guess what it costs you to run your car?

If you are an average motorist it costs you at least 11.4 cents per mile—that is, if you drive 15,000 miles per year.

If you drive less than 5,000 miles the cost averages out to a whopping 33.1 cents per mile in such a metropolitan area as Boston, for example. But driving 30,000 miles a year would bring this down to 8.2 cents a mile.

TWO STUDIES

These figures come from two separate studies of automobile usage costs, one by the Automobile Legal Association (ALA) of Boston and the other by the management consulting firm of Runzheimer and Co. of Rochester, Wis.

According to the ALA study, the average cost of operating a car for 15,000 miles per year has risen 10 per cent since 1965, which is just about the rise in the cost of the car itself. In 1965 it cost about 10 cents a mile to operate a car against today's 11.4 in most American cities.

The studies showed the average American drives his car about 12,000 miles a year. So in fact he's paying a bit more than the 11.4 cents per mile which is based on 15,000 miles of driving.

FIXED COSTS

Because of fixed costs built into running a car—taxes, licenses, insurance, depreciation, etc.—the average cost stays pretty close to the basic 11.4 cents per mile for most drivers. A car depreciates whether it is driven or not. Car insurance costs the same whether an auto is driven 5,000 miles a year or 30,000.

The Runzheimer study broke down its cost findings into types of cars and there are some surprises there, too.

SIZE, EXPENSE

Standard sized cars, it reported—the ones used most in business fleets—are not the least expensive to operate. In fact, it was found they cost about 12 per cent more to run than the intermediates—the so-called specialty cars.

For 20,000 miles of driving per year, the Runzheimer study found, the lowest prices cars—such as the Falcon and Valiant—weren't necessarily the cheapest to operate. It said the specialty cars, such as the Mustang, Camaro and Javelin, had the lowest operating cost.

The Runzheimer study did not break down the cents per mile figure but gave an annual cost estimate. For example it said the cost of driving a Chevelle 10,000 miles a year came to $1,301. For $330 more the same car could be driven another 10,000 miles.

Regular or standard sized cars such as the Chevrolet Impala or Ford Galaxie, this report said, cost $1,853 for 20,000 miles of driving a year.

Airline Is Busier

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — Pacific Southwest Airlines, the world's largest interstate air carrier, reached another milestone on Monday by carrying its 2,000,000th passenger for 1968 and announcing a 26 per cent increase in revenue passengers for the April-May-June quarter.

When Young Rebel Goes Commercial

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The young rebel who begins his climb up through the business world is not selling out, according to Dr. Berndt R. Kolker, provost at the University of Pacific.

He told a Commonwealth Club meeting Friday that when young men and women reject "the overt symbols of revolt" to land jobs, they are making "minor concessions" to conformity and not abandoning fundamental convictions.

"Such compromise should not be taken to mean that the revolt of the young is just a passing phase and that, as they grow older, they will readily come to terms with the values of their elders," he said. "Time for such rapprochment has long since run out."

Kolker said industry will have to prepare now for a clash between the top-level executive generation and the younger next echelon.

Work Force Sets Record

SACRAMENTO (AP) — State officials reported yesterday total civilian employment during June reached an all-time high of 7,743,000.

The June total was 99,000 above the May figure, and was 249,000 higher than June 1967.

The Department of Industrial Relations and the Department of Employment said settlement of some trade disputes between May and June contributed to the increase. They also said strikes during June 1967 lowered that month's employment figure, so the increase is somewhat inflated.

Western's Funds Up

LOS ANGELES (BW) — Western Air Lines has reported a six months earnings of $6,159,000, or $1.26 a share, 24 per cent higher than the $4,976,000, or $1.02 a share, earned during the first six months of last year, according to J. Judson Taylor, Western's senior vice president and treasurer.

GM Reports Earnings Up In '68

NEW YORK (AP) — General Motors reported net income for the first six months of the year totaled $960 million compared with $912 million in the same period a year ago.

Sales were $11.7 billion, a 12 per cent increase over those of $10.4 billion in the year ago period.

Earnings per share equaled $3.34 in the first half of 1968 compared with $3.17 in the six month period a year ago.

Net income in the second quarter of the year amounted to $541 million, a 4 per cent increase over the $522 million of the same period last year, after reflecting the 10 per cent tax surcharge applicable to the 1968 period.

Sales in the period were $6.3 billion or 14 per cent above those of $5.6 billion in the second quater of 1967.

Per share earnings for the second quarter were $1.88 compared with $1.82 in the same 1967 period.

Firm Joins Gem Search

LOS ANGELES (BW) — Standard Pacific Corp., a Southern California land development and residential building company, has purchased a 50 per cent interest in Diamond Geophysical, Inc., a New York corporation currently engaged in a search for diamonds in the Kirkland Lake region of Ontario, Canada, according to Arthur E. Svendsen, president of Standard Pacific.

The purchase, made for an undisclosed amount of cash, is part of a planned diversification into the natural resources area, Svendsen said.

Svendsen stated, "the recent discovery of the 'host rock' for diamonds in the Kirkland Lake region, was a factor in the company's decision to invest in Diamond Geophysical."

He also noted that "extensive exploration operations have been launched in the area by Debeers Consolidated Mines, Ltd., the world's largest commercial diamond producer. "So we are in good company," he added.

Diamond Geophysical is presently carrying out an exploration program for 42 claims in the townships of Gauthier, McElroy, Catharine and Martern, Svendsen said.

He added the program is under the direction of Dr. S. S. Szetu, a consulting geologist and diamond specialist of Toronto, and "involves the use of Soviet prospecting methods which were successful in producing a major diamond discovery in the Siberian Precambrian shield."

Father Told Bank Funds Accessible In Emergency

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I am 39 years old, have four children and live in a rented home. I have about $20,000 of life insurance, but no savings except $300 in bonds and my stock in Sears, Roebuck's profit sharing program. How can I gain more from owning stocks? You've mentioned some way to buy stocks by the month. — R. M.

A. You're a fortunate man to be participating in Sear's profit sharing program, and if you remain an employee until your retirement I hope you will have done as well as other Sears workers who have written me about their valuable company stock holdings. Like them you may later on want to switch into stocks with larger dividend yields for retirement income. Meanwhile, I urge you to put spare cash into a savings bank for possible emergency needs because of your responsibilities as head of a growing family.

You may think you could gain more from owning stocks that might increase in value. But stock prices can also fall, and if you needed cash in a hurry when the market was declining you might have to sell shares at a sacrifice level. Also bear in mind that stocks which move up the fastest usually return small dividends. Your primary need is a liquid cash reserve drawing interest. When a reasonable amount has accumulated you might then think about investing in stocks.

Q. In October, 1957, I bought 50 Cons. Edison 5 per cent pfd. at about 102. It's now around 80. Should I continue to hold it? I'm 80 years old and depend on this dividend. — J. G.

A. I would hold it and not go to the expense of switching because you would not be able to increase the dividend yield enough to make it worth your while. Utility share prices have been adversely affected by high money rates and your company reported lowered earnings in 1965 and 1966 which were reflected in the price of their shares. But the corner was turned last year and still higher earnings are predicted for 1968.

Oakland Airport Had Record Year

OAKLAND (BW) — An all-time passenger record was set at Oakland International Airport during June and for the fiscal year ended June 30. The best previous month was August last year when the total passenger count was 150,264.

This year's total in June was 171,076, an increase of 33 per cent over June 1967. The 1967-68 fiscal year total was 1,640,905, an increase of 26.5 per cent over 1966-67.

Conservationists' Fears Prove Too Often True

Time was when air was free, brooks and streams held an unlimited supply of fish, and forests bounded with game for sport and food, and hills teemed with timber and lush growth that seemed inexhaustible.

But the time is long gone.

When conservationists warned of pollution of air and water, despoliation of hills and bays wanton killing of wildlife, some of us called them wild dreamers.

Within a generation or two, many of those dreams have come true, and others are frighteningly close at hand. Those ridiculed as dreamers in their day have become prophets.

TODAY, CONSERVATIONISTS are concerned with man's continued disturbance of ecology and the problem of the vanishing species. Their concern should be the concern of all of us.

The Conservation Foundation, with offices in Washington, D. C., points out that man, the great predator, has demonstrated it can wipe out a species in less than a generation — with bullets, pesticides, or by destroying the animal's habitat. In the United States, some 80 species are now considered on the verge of extinction. They include the California condor, the ivory-billed woodpecker, Florida panther and timber wolf.

Gone are the famed passenger pigeons that once darkened the skies, and almost gone, the American buffalo or bison that once numbered over 60 million.

Killing for food and for clothing may have been justified. Today, much of the blame for the decimation of species rests with the fashion industry and man's quest for exotic skins and furs.

Animals are also sacrificed for sport and for trophies and souvenirs. Others are killed inadvertently by the use of pesticides and removal of needed vegetation or habitat, or through polluted air and water. Recently, escaped nerve gas caused the death of more than 4,500 sheep in Utah.

THE BIRD-WATCHERS and the "eccentric nature fanatics" are too often ridiculed and ignored.

Under the increasing pressure of fast-living and overcrowding, the role played by a secluded lake or shady stream, a hidden meadow at the end of a wooded trail, or the silence of a vast wilderness broken only by the sound of crickets or frogs becomes increasingly important for our mental and physical well being.

We hate to contemplate the day when the only animals and birds would be caged behind bars in the middle of a vast asphalt parking lot, and the only forests would be small islands of redwoods fenced off so they wouldn't be trampled to death, their scraggly limbs slowly suffocating in the hazy smog closing in from above.

In our mad rush for more steel, more concrete, more industry and more mechanization, the conservationist and bird-watcher are fighting a battle for all of us.

Petunias—The Dependable Ones

Petunias may not be the world's most beautiful flowers, but they are dependable growers and faithful bloomers. All they seem to ask is plenty of sunlight and a modicum of water. No fancy moss-laced, redwood-sawdusted, perfectly-balanced soil required. These petunia things seem to grow in plain garden dirt.

They come in a variety of colors, shapes and sizes. Our favorite is the saucer-sized, purple and white, fluffy-ruffled variety. They're beauties.

And they bloom all summer long in Marin.

San Francisco About To Get Control Of Own Port At Last

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—End of the 105-year operation of the Port of San Francisco by the State of California appeared to be in sight with the Senate governmental efficiency and economy committee's approval of AB 190, by Assemblyman John L. Burton, D-San Francisco.

The measure calls for transfer of the port's operation to the City of San Francisco, a goal sought by San Francisco legislators for many years, and unachieved because of the reluctance of the state to relinquish its operation of the harbor.

THE BILL MUST clear three more hurdles before it becomes law: first, the Senate finance committee, then the Senate itself, and finally, the signature of Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Assemblyman Burton, obviously pleased that the bill cleared the major committee of the Senate, said he expects no difficulties with the rest of the route the bill must travel. He declared that Governor Reagan is amenable to signing the bill when and if it reaches his desk.

"This transfer," Burton said, "acts as a guarantee that the Port of San Francisco will not become a ghost port. We have seen in the past few months some of the major shipping companies move to other ports, due to the lack of facilities in San Francisco. Other leading concerns have urged the transfer to the city, to enable developments which will bring the San Francisco port back to its place as the outstanding port of call on the Pacific Ocean."

THE STATE'S operation of the San Francisco waterfront for the last century and more has always been a bone of contention between the city and the state Legislature.

The city, and no doubt rightfully so, considered that it should operate and maintain the port, which has been the distributing center for millions of tons imported from the Orient, the south seas and other far-off lands, as well as the embarking point for world travelers.

Development of air traffic across the Pacific has hurt the passenger travel. Facilities for both freight and passengers have declined.

BURTON SAID that the city under his bill will assume the financial obligations of the port, which for many years has been financed for development purposes through general obligation bonds of the state. Ten years ago, the voters of California approved a $50 million bond issue for port improvement and $75 million of this issue remain to be sold.

The San Francisco assemblyman says it will take more than that amount for redevelopment. In the future, should his bill become law, raising the funds would be the responsibility of San Francisco, rather than the obligation of all the people of the state.

San Francisco remains as the one major state-operated harbors in California. Los Angeles, Long Beach and San Diego ports, which have grown with the state, are municipally operated.

County Needs All Ambulance Services

Reference to your article in yesterday's (July 24) paper regarding "Ambulance Service Put Off to Committee," my hat's off to the chairman of the Marin County Board of Supervisors for opposing that one ambulance company be awarded the county contract.

It has been proven in the past, before Doctors' Ambulance arrived here in the county, that there were numerous delays, one which may have been responsible for a man's life. Are we going back to this? United couldn't handle it. Doctors' Ambulance came to the county after reading about some of these delays in the paper.

We need all three existing companies and the contract should include all three, and territories divided equally or leave it as it is now.

This will insure us that we have adequate coverage even in disaster conditions.

I urge all citizens who feel as I do to write to the board of supervisors and give them your views at once. . . .

Lobbies Must Go Or Why Vote?

Why vote when it has been made crystal clear by the state Highway Commission that selfish interests and their lobbies dictate what goes where?

The truckers and their cohorts thru the highway group defy San Mateo and San Francisco counties as to the placing of the Serra freeway. The power of this lobby is particularly apparent by the lack of smog control devices on huge rigs barreling on our highways generally topping the 55 mph maximum by 10 to 15 miles.

The lobby system must go and government be returned to the people. Im my opinion this is a must or the American people will face obstacles greater than now on the horizon.

Anti-Missile Base Clean Light Industry

If you wonder why your property taxes go up and up, this is due partially to our lack of industry to share the tax load. Take note of the series of articles that have appeared during the last two weeks in the I-J concerning the possibility of the Air Force establishing a $50,000,000 anti-missile base in Marin with a $3,000,000 annual payroll.

A clean, light industry like this is what Marin needs but has been so unsuccessful in attracting. Certainly Hamilton and the Nike bases are assets to our local economy in generating jobs and sales taxes. Yet every article I have seen has been against this project, as have several of the vocal city and county officials. These officials should be working to attract the missile base — not kill it. To kill a good, clean tax-producer is stupid. This situation is not likely to change as long as most Marinites appear content to swallow ever-spiralling property taxes.

Who Benefits If Street Widened?

Who benefits from Center Boulevard widening? asks Mrs. Marjory MacDonald.

I do, and so do the thousands who use Center instead of the "cow path" of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. I live in Fairfax and work out near the new Civic Center, a bee-line of three miles but a trip of eight. So do others who live and own property in Fairfax, and points north, so do the hundreds who come out of Sleepy Hollow via Lansdale and Pastori streets, bound for S. F. via 101 every day. They won't build a short cut or a tunnel from Sleepy Hollow to get to 101, so we must get to it through San Rafael or Ross.

As far as noise — I lived alongside of Center Boulevard for 10 years. At first traffic was a trickle, now it is a roar! The raised boulevard and its present-day traffic makes one's patio untenable now. We moved!

I believe, as others, it should be widened to four lanes. . . . Sir Francis Drake should be improved to four lanes too. . . .

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

July 29, 1958

Plans to hold a Marin Art Festival in the summer of 1959 were announced by Ludwig Selinger, chairman of a newly formed Marin Festival Association.

There was mixed reaction from Novato residents to an announcement that Hamilton Air Force Base planned test runs of jet engines at night and on weekends for several months.

20 YEARS AGO

July 29, 1948

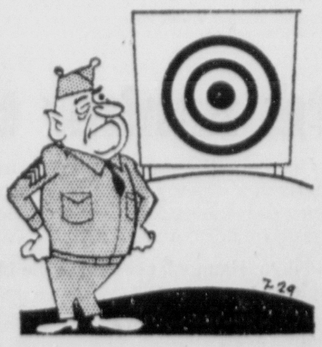
Complete sewering of Fairfax will be possible by the end of 1949, the Fairfax Planning Commission was told.

San Rafael Postmaster C. H. Hayden said a new parcel post metering machine installed in the post office would eliminate long lines during the 6 p.m. rush to mail packages.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

SOME OF the new draftees have a tough time learning how to handle a rifle. One old sergeant tells of taking a group of them out to a range and ordering them to fire at targets a hundred yards away. When the smoke cleared away, the targets didn't have one mark on them. The sergeant now tried his men at a 50-yard distance. Results: nil again. Even at 25-yards the embryo Dead-Eye Dicks registered complete misses. In final disgust, the sergeant declared wearily, "Okay, men: fix your bayonets and we'll charge the so and so targets!"



A MAN WHO had bought a very expensive parakeet couldn't get the bird to say a word till he pushed his face up to the cage and snarled, "You dope, can't you talk?" The parakeet snarled back, "I certainly can — but you, you sap, let's see you fly!"

MARQUIS CHILDS

Attractive Ghost Stalks Halls Of Would-Be President-Makers

WASHINGTON — A personable, vigorous, highly photogenic ghost stalked the governors' conference just ended in Cincinnati, as indeed he stalks the national political scene. The name of this attractive, dynamic ghost is John V. Lindsay. He is mayor of New York.

Again and again in private discussion and occasionally in public comment, Lindsay's name came up. The reason is not hard to discover. For Republicans, and perhaps even for Democrats, Lindsay is a will-o'-the-wisp of hope that there is an escape from the oppressive inevitability of presidential candidates who register so low on the enthusiasm barometer.

"Just suppose," one Republican governor said, "that there's a deadlock in the convention in Miami Beach with Nixon, Rockefeller and Reagan unable to get a majority of the delegates. Lindsay is put in nomination and Rockefeller throws his strength to him. Why, they'd go wild. He'd have the nomination."

This is of course, a midsummer night's fantasy evoked out of the boredom and emptiness of the Cincinnati conference.

WHAT LINDSAY stands for in relation to the desperate needs of the cities has little or nothing to do with his appeal to the pros casting about for an attractive alternative to the old politics. He conveys vibrant youth. He televises like a movie star — not of the Ronald Reagan era but out of the new and radical film world. He seems to speak what he believes and not the rhetoric of the past.

Lindsay has shown great courage. His forthright confrontation with the ghetto may be the reason New York has thus far had no renewal of major rioting.

But, as he knows better than almost anyone, the dialogue in the streets is only a beginning, a campaign asset. If steps are not taken on the basis of this goodwill to remedy the evils of the core cities, then it may be worse than nothing.

IT WAS AN outsider who spoke that truth. John Gardner, former secretary of Health, Education and Welfare and now head of the Urban Coalition, told the governors what he has been telling each of the presidential candidates in private. The new President who takes office in January simply cannot go on doing more of the same. He must come forward with and gain acceptance for a dynamic new plan to make over not just the cities but America.

What is more, he noted that the rhetoric of most public men, reflecting as it does the sensitivities of the moment, abounds in big ideas with small price tags or big ideas with no price tags at all.

Most of the governors preferred, however, to talk about self-help, the efforts of private capital in the ghettos, the errors of the past in public housing. They were simply unwilling to face the reality Gardner put before them. Yet it is increasingly clear that the next President will confront the plight of the cities with patching and mending wholly inadequate to stem the swift tide of decay in physical and human resources.

THE CYNICS will say that election campaigns are not meant, as Gardner advocated, to bring the electorate to a commitment for future action. The voters will run from the candidate who tells them home truths about the needs of the future. They prefer to believe that, if only the wicked "ins" are turned out in favor of the virtuous "outs," all will be for the best once more in the best-possible-of-worlds. After all, Franklin Roosevelt at nearly the bottom of the depression in 1932 campaigned as a conservative calling for a balanced budget.

But today, more than perhaps ever before in our history, the rhetoric of escape would seem to be a perilous form of ostrichism. The Lindsay of the television image, the summer dream of the wistful ticket makers, is not the Lindsay wrestling with urbanism run to the riotous point of breakdown.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS SAY

Front-Runners Lack Appeal

(John S. Knight in Akron Beacon Journal)

Can the last-hour Rockefeller blitz persuade enough delegates at Miami to withhold support from Nixon on the early balloting to prevent his nomination?

Will Rockefeller's contention that the Republican party can either win with him or lose with Nixon be sufficiently compelling to overcome Nixon's long lead in delegate strength?

If these assumptions be true —and they are not necessarily mine — the anticipated dull Miami convention may become a brawling, hotly contested encounter that will long be remembered in the annals of the Republican party. . . .

It is my personal view — for what it is worth — that neighter Vice President Hubert Humphrey nor former Vice President Richard Nixon has caught the popular fancy.

Humphrey represents the Johnson administration and the Democratic establishment. Nixon, though the youngest of all contenders in both parties, is usually identified with what Rockefeller calls "the old politics" and the senior business community.

This is not said in derogation of either man for they both have long and distinguished records of public service.

But the people are in a considerable ferment. They deplore what has been and is transpiring today. The new faces on the national scene — Sen. Eugene McCarthy and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller — suggest new hope through new approaches to our national and world problems and particularly the war in Vietnam.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Withdrawal Of Fortas Nomination Is Likely

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — There is a possibility that Justice Abe Fortas' elevation to chief justice will be withdrawn.

Whether this happens depends on factors that are still developing.

So far, recall of the intensely controversial appointment appears to be the last thing on President Johnson's mind. To all and sundry, he is testily proclaiming his combative determination to "battle it out to the end."

That may well be the President's ego-aroused intention. But time and events have a way of forcing drastic changes.

It is significant that recall is being guardedly discussed by Democratic senators who nominally are supporting Fortas' nomination. From their private comments it is very evident they are doing this with utmost seriousness. It's very apparent that's what they would like to see done.

This pronounced backstage hostility in these quarters reveals the underlying unpopularity of the appointment, and the marked dislike and distrust of Fortas.

He may be a long-time crony of the President, but he has few admirers in the Senate — if any!

That's the basic vulnerability of Fortas' nomination,aand why its eventual withdrawal is entirely possible. The simple fact is that Fortas has little personal appeal and strength of his own, and time is running against him.

ALTHOUGH the militant bipartisan opposition is considerably outnumbered, three factors are definitely working to its advantage:

Lack of the required two-thirds Senate majority to impose cloture and cut off prolonged debate. As a consequence, the opponents can block a vote on confirmation for an indefinite period.

Strongly adverse reaction throughout the Senate to Fortas' admissions that he continued to advise Johnson while on the Supreme Court, and that he had phoned a wealthy former client and sharply admonished him for assailing White House policies. These disclosures made a distinctly sour impression even among those supporting Fortas.

Strong resentment, even among senators who for various reasons are backing the President's two appointments, that in his last months in office he named two cronies to these exalted judicial seats.

This widespread indignation was pointedly expressed by a leading Democratic liberal, as follows:

"If I have to, I'll vote for Fortas and Thornberry, but I'll hold my nose when I do so. The President's appointment of these two cronies is a plain outrage."

KEEP HIM OUT — A notorious fugitive U. S. Communist has his work cut out for him to get readmitted here — if Paul G. Rogers, D-Fla., has his way.

In a letter to Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, Rogers demands that Robert F. Williams, who fled the country in 1961 while under charges of kidnapping, and reportedly is seeking to return, be barred from doing so on the ground he "renounced his citizenship."

County-Union Agreement Marks Milestone, Is Not One-Sided

The collective bargaining agreement between the county and the Probation Workers and Social Workers Union provides, among other things, a three-week vacation after one year of work and four weeks after 10 years.

This three-week vacation, which grabbed most of the headlines, was one of the concessions won by union negotiators, and applies to all county employees a well.

But the agreement, accepted by the supervisors last week, was not a one-sided affair with union negotiators getting all the breaks.

The union negotiators also gave in on certain points. The final agreement laid before the supervisors represented considerable give and take on the part of both union and management (county) negotiators.

FOR EXAMPLE, here are some of the other provisions:

The probation workers and social workers get an increase in pay, but they are given professional status and therefore "shall be accountable for results rather than time worked." In other words, they won't get pay for overtime work.

The number of holidays is reduced by one — election day is no longer a holiday for county employees. On the other hand, paid sick leave can be accumulated up to 120 days instead of the present 90 days.

Both sides agreed to no strikes and no lockouts.

All in all, the agreement looks like a sensible and responsible document with no undue advantage for either employees or county. Both negotiating teams did an admirable job, particularly since Marin is pioneering in the field of collective bargaining for county employees and lacked precedents to fall back upon.

THE COUNTY makes periodic inspections to guard against dangerous plant diseases, insect pests and noxious weeds. But one spot missed all these years was Angel Island.

So R. Allan Ballard, the new agricultural commissioner, made the first inspection of Angel Island the other day. His finding: a clean bill of health; no major pest recognizable in the field.

HAVE YOU noticed "we" buttons sprouting on the lapels of Marin citizens lately? The letters "we" are designed against a background of white, black, yellow and brown, symbolizing both the oneness and the variety of the human race.

There is a series of symbolic meanings in the simple design. "we" the human race, or the idea of world ethnic, or perhaps west meeting east, contrary to Kipling's "never the twain shall meet."

The buttons are the brainchild of designer Ute Goggins and her husband J. Patrick Goggins of San Rafael, an outgrowth of the brotherhood lapel button suggested by Lothar Salin several months ago.

Moscow Cocktail Party Place For Significant Russian Actions

MOSCOW — A diplomatic reception in Moscow has tremendous significance, not only because of the good food and free liquor, but because it is where most foreign observers learn what is going in the Soviet Union.

I attended a large diplomatic cocktail party at one of the foreign embassies last week and I was amazed at what the professional Kremlin-watchers got out of it.

THIS IS HOW the conversation went later on in the evening, when everyone was comparing notes:

"Did you notice Golvosky arrived after Kubinsky?"

"That's very interesting, because at the Fourth of July party at the American Embassy Kubinsky arrived after Golvosky."

"And at the Fourteenth of July party at the French Embassy they came together."

"Very significant. By the way, did anyone see Petrov shake hands with Puchinsky?"

"I was going to call that to your attention. It's strange that Petrov should shake hands with Puchinsky when the last time they met, Petrov only nodded at Puchinsky."

"Perhaps Puchinsky's star is rising in the Presidium."

"Or maybe Petrov's star is falling."

"I THINK we have overlooked the real significance of the handshake. It is not that Petrov shook hands with Puchinsky, but Puchinsky's wife did not talk to Petrov's wife."

"Are you sure?"

"Of course I'm sure. Puchinsky's wife turned her back on Petrov's wife to say hello to Bolgonoff's wife. It was a deliberate snub."

"That's very interesting. But to me the most important thing that happened at the reception was that Bolgonoff was drunk and spilled vodka all over Marshal Igorvitch's uniform."

"What is so important about that?"

"Igorvitch was the one who apologized."

"Bolgonoff's star must be rising faster than we thought."

"No doubt about it. Marshal Igorvitch even went and got Bolgonoff another vodka."

"DID BOLGONOFF spill that vodka on Igorvitch's uniform as well?"

"No, but he stepped on the marshal's foot and wouldn't get off it."

"I wonder if this means they're going to make Bolgonoff minister of defense?"

"He's obviously in for something big. I've never seen Marshal Igorvitch allow someone to stand on his foot for so long."

"DID ANYONE see Zubelkin at the party?"

"You mean the Tashkent poet who was ousted from the Writers' Union for writing a poem attacking the traffic policemen on Gorsky Street?"

"That's the one. He's been rehabilitated and is now permitted to write anything he wants, providing he doen't ask anyone to publish it."

"The Writers' Union must be going through one of their liberal periods again."

"I DON'T KNOW if this means anything, but Kavasky spoke to me."

"That is significant because Kavasky never speaks to foreigners. What did he say?"

"I asked him about the Czech problem and he replied, 'I'm sorry, I never speak to foreigners.' "

"Did anyone notice that Gogol spilled vodka on Mutiken?"

"It means nothing. Everyone in Moscow spills vodka on Mutiken. He's become a regular bar rag."

Senate Once Turned Down Chief Justice

WASHINGTON (AP) — Only once in U.S. history has the Senate rejected a presidential nomination of a chief justice of the United States.

That was in 1795 and involved some issues parallel to the current controversy over President Johnson's nomination of Abe Fortas as chief justice.

John Rutledge, Revolutionary War leader and former associate justice of the Supreme Court, was named by his friend George Washington to be the young nation's second chief justice.

After five days of debate, he was rejected by the Senate where opposition centered on political partisanship and regional differences that mirror some of the forces in conflict over the Fortas nomination.

He was named an associate justice of the U.S. Supreme Court by President Washington when it was formed in 1790.

Although Fortas has not held an elected office, he too was named an associate justice by a President who is a close friend. Fortas too was nominated as chief justice by that same friend and President.

After serving a year on the Supreme Court, Rutledge resigned to become chief justice of South Carolina's high court.

But when John Jay, the nation's first chief justice, resigned in 1795 to become governor of New York, Rutledge asked Washington for the appointment. He was named to the post in the summer while Congress was not in session.

The Senate rejected Rutledge just one week after it returned that winter with opposition aimed at his support of a treaty Jay had negotiated to try to stave off a new war with England.

The treaty's trade provisions were not popular in the South and Rutledge bitterly condemned the agreement in a speech at a public meeting at a Charleston, S. C. church.

Rutledge had served as acting chief justice for five months when President Washington sent his nomination to the Senate in December. He was rejected 14 to 10.

Rutledge, a strong supporter of slavery and states rights, drew few supporters outside the South other than Aaron Burr of New York.
